

DIVISION OF AUTHORITY ALONG MEXICAN BORDER

War Department Acts to Decentralize Direct Administration of the 1800 Mile Frontier

WASHINGTON, July 2.—With more than 150,000 troops assembling along the Mexican border the war department today took steps to decentralize direct administration of the 1800-mile frontier in the interest of efficiency and to pave the way for the appointment of a supreme commander to co-ordinate all military activities on the international line and in Mexico.

Three Military Departments
The border, formerly in the southern department from the Gulf of Mexico to California, now is divided into three military departments commanded respectively by Major General Frederick Funston, Brig. Gen. John J. Pershing and Maj. Gen. J. Franklin Bell.

New Supreme Commander
War department officials said the new order which automatically relieves Gen. Funston of supreme command on the border and the enormous responsibilities that have crowded upon him, had no significance as indicating preparation for war. There was no formal announcement in regard to the probable selection of a senior major general for command of the border guard and field forces. There are indications that Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, former chief of staff, and now commanding the department of the east, is being considered in this connection.

To Promote Pershing
Another probable change indicated by the new order is the promotion of Gen. Pershing under the army organization bill now effective. It provides for one additional major general, and it is believed Gen. Pershing will be given one of these posts in recognition of his services in his pursuit of the Columbus bandits.

CHANGE RECOMMENDED
BY GENERAL FUNSTON

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 2.—The division of authority along the Mexican border was recommended to the war department two weeks ago by Gen. Funston. He suggested to the department that if general field operations in Mexico were undertaken greater efficiency would be displayed by the American army if three major-generals were placed in command.

FURTHER SUCCESSES FOR ALLIES IN GREAT DRIVE

French and British Continue to Advance in Desperate Fighting on Both Sides of the Somme—British Gain Ground East of Ancre—French Capture Two Lines of German Trenches and Village of Herbecourt—Strong German Resistance

The marked successes won by the British and French in initiating their great offensive along the western front are being systematically and successfully followed up.

French Capture Trenches
Heavily pounding the German second line south of the Somme, the French have captured two lines of trenches along a three mile front and taken the village of Herbecourt, two miles northeast of Compiègne.

The captured village is on the road to Peronne which town apparently is the immediate objective of the French forces in this sector. It is five miles distant from the furthest thrust of the French advance.

British Pressing for Bapaume
To the north the British are pressing for Bapaume, where numerous main highways join. Having taken Fricourt, which formed a salient desperately held by the Germans to check the British advance on either side, Gen. Haig's forces now command the terrain toward Bapaume.

Determined German Resistance
North of the river Ancre the British have met the most determined German resistance and their advances here have not been so marked as between that stream and the Somme. Nevertheless, they are declared to have maintained in conjunction with the French, the initiative all along the line of the grand offensive.

Further Advance of British
Reports from the British front today tell of a further advance by the British in the Fricourt sector. They have occupied higher ground, north of the village, giving them an increased advantage for pressing their eastward drive.

Fighting Is Bitter
Fighting is bitter along the whole British front, being notably so at La Boisselle, northeast of Fricourt.

4000 Germans Captured
More than 4000 prisoners have been taken by the British. With the 6000 captured by the French, who today report the number growing, the total is now well above 10,000. The Germans, despite the allied offensive are continuing uninterrupted by their heavy attacks on Verdun. Last night they captured the Dambloup work northeast of the citadel. The French rallied, however, Paris reports today and completely ejected the Germans by a counter offensive.

BLAMES BIRRELL FOR THE IRISH REBELLION

Royal Commission Reports on the Investigation—Baron Wimborne Exonerated

LONDON, July 2.—The royal commission which investigated the Irish rebellion says in its report submitted today that the responsibility for the outbreak does not rest with Baron Wimborne, the lord lieutenant, since resigned, who is declared to have been in no way answerable for the policy of the government. The chief secretary for Ireland, Augustine Birrell, who resigned shortly after the suppression of the outbreak, was primarily responsible, the report says.

Causes of Outbreak
The royal commission was presided over by Baron Halding. Outlining the causes of the outbreak in Ireland the report says:

"In endeavoring to elucidate the causes of the rebellion in Ireland, the fact should be borne in mind that there is always a section of opinion in that country bitterly opposed to British connection and that in times of excitement this section can impose its sentiments on largely increase numbers of people.

The conclusion of the report points out that it is outside the scope of the commission's instructions to inquire how far the policy of the Irish executive was adopted by the cabinet as a whole, or to attach responsibility to any but civil and military executives in Ireland." The report then gives these conclusions:

That the "main cause of the rebellion appears to be that lawlessness was allowed to grow up unchecked, and that Ireland for several years past had been administered on the principle that it was safer and more expedient to leave the law in abeyance if a collision with any faction of the Irish people could thereby be avoided."

GEORGE W. LEES KILLED

Struck Down at Mountain Rock by Limb of Tree Struck by Lightning

George W. Lees of 103 Cumberland road was instantly killed at Mountain Rock during the thunder storm yesterday afternoon when the heavy limb of a tree under which Lees was standing was struck by lightning and fell on him.

The party had left Cumberland road at noon for an afternoon's outing at Lakeview and Mountain Rock. They had hired a boat and were crossing the lake when the storm came up suddenly and the boat was directed toward Mountain Rock.

There are conflicting reports as to the precise manner in which the accident occurred, some saying that Lees pulled his boat under a tree that extended over the water and that he was struck before he had time to get out. Others state that he had gotten out and was pulling the boat to the edge of the water to get his wife out when the big limb, torn from the tree by lightning, came down on his head, knocking him into the water.

The other occupants were greatly stunned by the lightning and the falling of the heavy limb from the tree with the fatal consequences to Mr. Lees. It was supposed at first that he was struck by lightning, but while he may have been, it is certain that his other injuries were sufficient to cause instant death.

When Lees was pulled out of the water it was thought he was merely unconscious and he was hurried in an automobile to the corner of Lakeview avenue and Euclid street, where the ambulance was met. Lees, however, was dead and he was removed to the funeral parlors of William H. Saunders in Euclid street.

Death came as the result of a dislocated neck, crushed chest and fractured skull.

Lees was about 30 years of age and was well known in Odd Fellows circles. He was a member of Wamsutter lodge, Manchester Unity, and was to have been installed as noble grand of the organization this evening.

Deceased is survived by his wife, Mary J., one daughter, Gladys Alice, and his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lees.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

HOUSE OF E. A. ROBINSON OF METUEN STREET DAMAGED, BUT OCCUPANTS UNINJURED

Lightning struck E. A. Robinson's house in Metuen street, about 11 o'clock last night. One of the chimneys was demolished and the bolt went down through into the cellar cutting off the telephone wires and putting the electric lights out of commission. Mrs. Robinson was alone with her aged mother at the time and both were badly scared. Rev. Mr. Harris, pastor of the Fifth Street church, lives in the other side of the house and went in to Mrs. Robinson and her mother when the crash came, fearing that they had been injured. But there was no injury than to the chimney, the roof and the wires.

MRS. HETTY GREEN DEAD

WAS SAID TO BE THE WEALTHIEST WOMAN IN THE WORLD—DIED AT HOME OF HER SON

NEW YORK, July 3.—Mrs. Hetty Green, known as the world's wealthiest woman, who was 80 years old, died here today. She had suffered three strokes of paralysis during the past two months, and for several weeks had been virtually helpless.

Her death occurred at 8 o'clock at the home of her son, Col. Edward H. Green, at No. 5 West 90th street, adjoining the plain brick, four-story house at No. 7, on the corner of Central Park West, where Mrs. Green had lived lately in seclusion, except for her son and several Japanese servants and trained nurses.

For several weeks past Mrs. Green had been unable to walk, and had spent nearly all of her time in a wheel chair. The nurses occasionally lifted her into her automobile, propped up by pillows and protected by furs, the mistress of finance enjoyed a few afternoons in the park. Most of her time, however, she sat in the wheel chair at one of the front windows on the parlor floor of her house, and gazed out over the park, motionless for hours at a time.

Her son, Colonel Green, and her daughter, Mrs. Matthews Astor Wilkes, who were the only children, had been with her much of the time and it was recently reported that Mrs. Green had put all of her financial affairs in her son's charge.

TEWKSBURY VISITED BY DESTRUCTIVE CYCLONE

Buildings Leveled and Trees are Uprooted—Cyclone Was Accompanied by Thunder and Lightning—Many Had Narrow Escapes But None Was Injured—Large Water Tower Carried Away

A cyclone of no mean proportions, howled by roars of thunder, came across visited staid old Tewksbury Sunday afternoon at about 4:30 o'clock and its visit will long be remembered by the good people of that village who are thankful, despite the great damage wrought to property, that no one was killed. The roaring, fierce-looking, winding, circling thing, dark as night, twisted windmills, destroyed hot houses, leveled brick chimneys and disappeared in the direction of Haggitt's pond. We read in the war news about great trees being splintered by shell fire, but none of the gun-beaten forests of Europe have anything on the path left by the lightning and thunder accompanied cyclone that swept through Tewksbury yesterday. In some instances the top branches of trees shot down and are sticking upright in the earth like new trees.

DIED FROM THE HEAT

ONE DEATH AND THREE PROSTRATIONS IN BOSTON YESTERDAY—COOLER TODAY

BOSTON, July 3.—The July hot spell continued unabated yesterday and one death and three prostrations from the heat were reported before a cool, refreshing breeze that sprang up at nightfall brought relief to the suffering thousands in the cities.

The one death attributed to the heat was that of Harry Berkman, 52 years old, of 149 Leverett street, who was found dead upon the floor of the kitchen of his home in the afternoon by members of his family.

Although the weather bureau reported that the highest mark registered by the official thermometer during the day was 82, one degree less than the hottest hour of Saturday, old General Humidity got in his work, and those who could not go down to the cool sea breezes sweated.

The forecast held out a promise of further relief at midnight, however, with the prediction of local showers and cooler for today. Fair weather is promised for the Fourth, with moderate southwest to west winds.

The heat yesterday drove record-breaking crowds to the beaches. Two hundred thousand people rushed to Revere Beach. Fifty thousand more visited Nantasket, where there were 2500 bathers against nearly 7000 by official count at Revere.

Thirty-five thousand had taken a cool dip at the L street baths by 6

LODGING HOUSE FIRE

FIVE PERSONS RESCUED AND 20 OTHERS DRIVEN INTO STREET IN HAVERHILL BLAZE

HAVERHILL, July 3.—Two persons were overcome by smoke and gas, three women rescued and 20 lodgers driven to the street in night clothing during a fire which destroyed the restaurant of E. W. Manson of 20 Emerson street, early yesterday morning.

The fire started in the kitchen of the restaurant on the first floor, and when discovered, had eaten its way to the rooms of the lodging house above. Patrolman Donahue broke in the door leading to the lodging house, and aroused the inmates. He rescued three women, who became lost in the smoke-filled halls.

When the firemen arrived, Joseph Johnson was still missing. Lieutenant Cuttenden, of the fire department rushed up stairs through the smoke and flames, and after forcing the door of Johnson's room, found him unconscious on the floor. He gathered up the unconscious form and rushed it to the street, then to the Gale hospital.

Captain George F. Walker became unconscious from smoke and gas, and was rescued with difficulty by several of his mates.

FOUND DYING NEAR HOME

BOSTON, July 3.—An autopsy will be performed today in connection with the death early yesterday of M. R. Woodrow, of 35 Harvey street, Cambridge.

Woodrow was found unconscious with a fractured skull on the tracks of the Massachusetts Central railroad in the rear of his home about 3 o'clock yesterday morning. The police believed he had been struck by a train and hurried him to the Cambridge hospital, where he died a few hours later without recovering consciousness.

Medical Examiner Swan then viewed the body and declared there were certain elements in the case which made it impossible for him to determine without an autopsy whether or not death had been caused by a train. He ordered the body removed to the Cambridge morgue for an autopsy this morning.

LADY LOOKABOUT

President Wilson has done much to merit the appreciation of all in leading the country through the threatened period of the past two years, and a feeling of gratitude toward him pervades the nation. One unhappy expression he has coined and which, like many catch phrases, seems destined to live, is that of the "hyphenated-Americans."

It would be interesting to note just how many American citizens there are who would fall outside that classification—to say nothing of the reflection it casts on the federal institution of naturalization. If there be any doubt in the minds of any as to the whereabouts of the hyphenated citizen when the nation calls for help, let them cast their eyes over the muster-rolls of many of the companies which have already gone forth in defense of the American flag, and they must admit that one easily could be deceived into believing he was reading the rosters of the French National Guard and the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Our Business Men

No, hear that the Business Men's battalion did yeoman trench work at the Dracut rifle range. Lowell is proud of this gathering of her business men. Unlike the prophet of old who was not appreciated in his own country, these men are appreciated much more here than abroad, and to foreign scoffers we say:

"Let not ambition mock their useful toil."

But this is what the Boston Globe says:

"The four companies of the Lowell Business Men's battalion had some good practice in trench digging and target shooting at the Dracut rifle range Thursday afternoon. To the utilitarian mind it may seem a pity that the practice in trench digging cannot be conducted in the streets where sewers and gas mains may be needed."

Beware of Accidents

With July Fourth at hand, a final word of warning to those likely to let their spirit of patriotism as expressed by means of fireworks and explosives, get the better of their common sense may not be amiss. Fatalities from burning may be averted to a large degree by rinsing inflammable clothing in a solution of alum and water. A so-

43 ARSON ARRESTS

"FIREBUG" CRUSADE IN BOSTON—TRIALS WEDNESDAY—MAN WHO FLED ARRESTED YESTERDAY

BOSTON, July 3.—The 43d arrest in the "arson trust" cases was made yesterday morning, when Harry Green, 22 years old, of 144 Chelsea street, East Boston, was taken into custody by Inspectors Lynch and Towle and State Officers Sherlock and Thompson.

Green is indicted under charges of setting fire to the dwelling at 430 Winthrop street, Winthrop, Aug. 5, 1915, and again on December 19, 1915, to defraud insurance companies.

Green has been absent since the grand jury took up the cases in March. He has been in Nashua, Manchester and elsewhere. When officers reached those cities he had gone. They heard that he would be home over the Fourth and called at his house, at daylight, yesterday, and were rewarded.

Green protested innocence. Asked why he fled, he said, "I heard that the grand jury was investigating, and I did not want to be drawn into the mess."

Trials will begin next Wednesday in the 43 arson arrests. The authorities feel confident. They say their evidences will convict, and break up fire-setting for insurance. If the expected number of convictions follow, it will prove the greatest firebug crusade in the history of any city.

PEARY OUT OF RACE

EXPLORER WITHDRAWS HIS NAME AS CANDIDATE FOR SENATOR IN MAINE

PORTLAND, Me., July 3.—Hear-Admiral Robert E. Peary, North Pole discoverer, who a week ago issued a letter stating his willingness to become a candidate at the special election for United States senator to succeed the late Edwin C. Burleigh, has withdrawn his name.

In a letter written Saturday, Admiral Peary says his sole idea in running was to use his influence in the senate, if elected, for preparedness, especially as regards a coast patrol of aeroplanes. Now he feels that as an untrained politician his chances would be slim, and asks his friends not to work for him.

HELD PATRIOTIC SERVICES

TRUE AMERICANISM DISCUSSED AT WORTHEN ST. CHURCH—HOMAGE TO THE FLAG

"True Americanism," was Rev. Walter E. Woodbury's sermon subject at the Worthen Street Baptist church Sunday evening and he took his text from Matthew, 16: 26: "For what shall a man be profited, if he shall gain the whole world and forfeit his life?" or "What shall a man give in exchange for his life?"

Speaking of the Mexican trouble, the speaker said: "If my boy has his choice between living to be 100 years old and living ignobly, or dying for his country at 20 or 30 or 40 and dying a hero, courage and hold. I hope he will take the second choice. As pastor of this church, having a fatherly interest in every young man of the parish, I should hate to have any of them leave us; but if there comes a serious situation and a real call from our country, I should feel ashamed to be pastor of a church that had not a representative among the boys who can fight for the stars and stripes. I do not want war. I hope that even now war may not come. But there are things that are worth more than the breath of these weak bodies; and there is a forfeit of your life by doing the shot of the cannon, that is worse than feeding the cannon with your body. For the sake of liberty and justice and brotherhood and God! Whosoever loses his life in any such cause shall find it."

Patriotic Service

The spirit of patriotism was quite manifest at Calvary Baptist church Sunday evening. A small American flag was worn by each one present, many of the better known patriotic songs were sung and the pastor, Rev. Asa Reed Ditts, had for sermon subject, "The Flag." In the course of his address he said: "This flag has been an inspiration to many great deeds, and not all of them deeds on the battlefield. In peace that stars and stripes have made many men and women do most heroic things. And this flag is so great because it is the symbol of God's own nation, the nation he in his inscrutable wisdom, selected to be the light of the world. It is the nation selected by him to carry liberty to the uttermost portion of the earth, to afford protection to the weak and oppressed of all races."

His First Service

Rev. Arthur G. Lyon conducted his first Sunday service as pastor of the Pawtucket church yesterday. There was a fine musical program by the adult and junior choirs. The pastor spoke on "The Importance of Worship." After the address several little children were baptized and one member was received into the church, after which the sacrament of the Lord's supper was administered.

SOME dealers push out cheaply made goods with the idea of saving something at their customer's expense. Chelmsford costs more to make than any other brand in New England but there is no middleman, no inside price, no special rebate, no jobbers discount, no chain-store rake-off. One case or a thousand cases the price is the same to all DEALERS, wholesale or retail, and that price is the lowest that High Grade Goods can possibly be sold for. By passing these special discounts along to the consumer the extraordinary value of the Big 10 Cent 4 Glass Bottle is made possible.

The dealer whose policy is to save on the quality of the Ginger Ale he serves will undoubtedly practice similar economy on other commodities.

The SQUARE DEAL dealer serves Chelmsford without being especially asked for it. It costs him 20 to 40 per cent. more but the customers satisfaction is worth more to him than the extra profit on the cheap stuff.

One-third of these $257 pianos have been sold

TWO WEEKS AGO—we opened this Big Behr Bros. Sale. TODAY—ONE-THIRD of these pianos (in round figures) have been sold. We told you it was a most unusual sale and that the pianos would go quickly.

This has been fully proved by the INSTANTANEOUS SUCCESS of the sale. The success of this sale was assured however from the very hour it opened—its success lying in the ONE FACT that the Behr Bros. pianos sold are worth a LOT MORE MONEY than they are selling for—that they are being offered on the easiest sort of terms and that the purchasers are given innumerable privileges and advantages which absolutely protect them.

The advantage you obtain through buying a Behr Bros. player-piano during this Sale

WE WANT to make these so plain that there cannot be the least chance for a misunderstanding. The first and most important advantage is, these player-pianos have sold at from five hundred to six hundred dollars each. Our sale price is a uniform price of three hundred and ninety-seven dollars each.

NEXT—player-pianos such as the Behr Bros. are usually sold upon payments of thirty-five to fifty dollars cash and fifteen dollars to twenty dollars a month.

OUR sale terms are, five dollars cash, then only two dollars and twenty-five cents a week.

NEXT—the regular method of selling player-pianos does not include special privileges—other than giving the customer a player-bench and probably a few rolls of music.

Our sale plan not only includes a player-bench and ten rolls of music—your own selection—BUT,

1. An unconditional five-year guarantee—the same as on the piano.
2. Privilege of returning the instrument within thirty days and "GETTING YOUR MONEY BACK!"

Privilege of exchanging, at full price, for any other player-piano of equal value, at any time within one year.

Your piano or player-piano will be delivered immediately upon receipt of the five-dollar initial payment. Make your selection at once while the stock is complete and all styles are available.

BOY DROWNED

North Cambridge Lad
Went to His Death as
Many Look on

BOSTON, July 3.—Gerald O'Connor, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connor of 77 Porter road, North Cambridge, and an honor graduate last month of the Cambridge Latin school, was drowned yesterday afternoon in Spy pond, Arlington, a victim of a canoe accident.

The boy sank to his death while two young men in a canoe not ten yards distant sat calmly by taking a picture and while a number of persons in other canoes close to the scene looked on and made no attempt to rescue him.

With his chum, Charles Daley, a son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Daley of 54 Fairfield street, North Cambridge, the O'Connor boy was leaning far out over the side of the canoe paddling when the frail craft suddenly upset. Both boys were thrown into the water.

O'Connor, unable to swim, sank almost instantly, while Daley struck out for the shore, about 100 yards distant. He reached there safely and turned to see his chum's head appear above the surface and the young men taking a picture. There were several other canoes near by, according to Daley, but none of the persons in them endeavored in any way to save the drowning boy.

In the meantime someone had called the Arlington police and Sergeant T. A. Duffey and Patrolman Arthur Blyea, reaching the pond soon afterward, put out in a boat with John O'Connor of 41 Massachusetts avenue, North Cambridge. They recovered the body within 15 minutes and brought it ashore.

FITZGERALD AT HUDSON

FORMER MAYOR OF BOSTON SAYS
THERE WILL BE NO WAR WITH MEXICO

HUDSON, July 3.—At the first day's celebration of the town of Hudson's 50th anniversary yesterday, former Congressman L. B. Ansley predicted that future honors are in store for former Mayor John E. Fitzgerald of Boston, who was the principal speaker of the day in place of Henry Cabot Lodge, who found it impossible to be present.

Subsequent to the former mayor's address the Rev. Mr. Ufford praised the peace sentiments expressed by Dr. Fitzgerald, and said that he was "pleased that Boston's former mayor had been substituted for the senior senator, and something like that may happen in the future."

Dr. Fitzgerald predicted that there will be no war with Mexico, "because President Wilson will be governed by the wishes of the common people and the ordinary citizen instead of by the demands of special interests, who want war for selfish purposes." He quoted from the president's speech at New York as illustrative of the attitude of the president. He said it requires just as much bravery to keep out of war as to get into war.

LETTERS OF SYMPATHY

MRS. AND MRS. MULLIGAN RECEIVE
CONDOLENCES FROM GREEN
SCHOOL ON LOSS OF DAUGHTER

Among the many letters and messages of condolence received by Mr. and Mrs. James Mulligan on the accidental death of their little daughter, Margaret, was one from Principal Paul L. Perkins of the Green school of which Margaret was a pupil. It is as follows:

GREEN GRAMMAR SCHOOL

Lowell, Mass., June 29, 1916.
Mr. and Mrs. James Mulligan, 10
Stackpole st., Lowell, Mass.

Dear Mr. Mulligan and Family: The sad accident which befell Margaret has cast a mantle of sorrow on the teachers and pupils of the Green school. Her winning atmosphere, exuberant spirits and joy of living, which were so well blended with honesty, courtesy and good manners, endeared her to us all. We feel the deepest sympathy with you in this hour of sorrow.

It seems to me that the knowledge that Margaret was a good girl, and that you had faithfully trained her, should be a source of comfort to you at this time.

To Anna and Ella I would also extend my sympathy. By added thoughtfulness, if there be room for such, try to comfort your parents, by filling up as far as can be filled, with kindness, the great gap in the family circle.

Wishing you joy out of sadness I remain,

Very truly,

Paul L. Perkins.

Several other letters from Margaret's former teachers were received and to one and all Mr. and Mrs. Mulligan are deeply grateful.

THREE HURT IN AUTO FIRE

EXETER, N. H., July 3.—Three persons were injured yesterday, with an automobile in which they were riding on Epping road, three miles from this place, caught fire, skidded and overturned. The car was destroyed.

The machine was owned and driven by Dr. N. D. Blitch of Manchester, N. H., and with him were his wife and a nephew, Frank K. George. They were on their way to Portsmouth. Mrs. Blitch was the most seriously hurt.

TO MANAGE CAMPAIGN

REPORT COLLECTOR OF THE PORT
EDMUND BILLINGS TO REPRESENT
SENT WILSON IN MASSACHUSETTS

BOSTON, July 3.—The following article regarding the democratic situation in Massachusetts is printed by the New York Herald under a Boston date line:

Word has come from Washington that Edmund Billings, collector of the port of Boston, is to be the representative of the Wilson administration in this state in the coming presidential campaign. This means the administration has decided to ignore the democratic state committee, headed by Michael A. O'Leary, and it has started a row that, according to prominent members of the committee, will cost the president 50,000 votes in Massachusetts. Mr. O'Leary and his committee were ignored by David I. Walsh when he made his losing fight last fall against the present republican governor, Samuel W. McCall, and Mr. O'Leary believes Mr. Walsh, although he is in the Orient, may have had a hand in inducing the administration to select Mr. Billings.

Mr. O'Leary believes, too, that Dr. John W. Coughlin of Fall River, member of the democratic national committee, against whom he led a fight in the convention at St. Louis, also is trying to land him and his committee in the political scrap heap, and he is on the verge of open rebellion. He has told leaders of the party that he will not take orders from Mr. Billings.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Willie Collier, who appears in the new Triangle photoplay, "The No Good Guy" at the H. F. Keith theatre, the first three days of the present week has the part of a detective who couldn't detect a thunderstorm unless struck by lightning. Collier is at his very best in this picture, and should make many friends through his delightful comedy. One of the scenes in this place, which Director Thomas Ince spent a whole month on, is the dynamiting of an eight-story concrete building right in the heart of Los Angeles. This is no fake. The building, having been condemned by the building authorities, was slated for demolition when Ince came along and bought the right to blow it up and photograph it at the same time. This scene is usually run off in about 20 seconds, but it makes the tremendous thrill of the piece. A Lowell girl appears in a minor part in the picture. She is Miss Gertrude Holden, and she is an employee of the J. L. Chaffoux Co. Miss Holden was in Los Angeles at the time Director Ince was making the picture, and he called for volunteers for several parts. Miss Holden was one of the most likely of the lot, and so she will be recognized in several of the scenes. The second feature will be "By Stork Delivery," a funny Triangle-Keystone picture, with Mack Swain featured. The sixth chapter of Gloria's Romance, with Miss Billie Burke in the leading part, will also be shown. It is called "Hidden Fires."

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

No doubt, all lovers of the latest and best in motion pictures starring some of the most brilliant stars in flandom will hail with joy this announcement that Pauline Frederick will appear at all the performances tomorrow and Wednesday in "The World's Greatest Snare," a five-act play pointing the high lights of big game life in a western mining town where men live by the sweat of their brows and the value of their lives is measured by the quickness of their trigger fingers. Miss Frederick appears in the role of Myra, the devoted and determined woman who, in the face of all consuming passion, leads through immeasurable dangers and hardships in search of her lover, not knowing his whereabouts until she is captured by him when she finds him, the love that makes her smile with joy at the thought of dying for the lord and master of her heart.

In this play the elemental woman must decide between standing by her miserably cowardly husband who is wrongfully withholding valuable information from the mine, or the really love and admires, and the young Englishman who has come to this country with the hope of legally establishing his claim. The legally established man, who has played the part of a villain in the past, is now feeling woman forms a thrilling climax in this gripping play, "The World's Greatest Snare," which will be played at the Merrimack Square theatre during these first three days of this week. Those who have seen Miss Frederick in some of her former successes, especially "Donna," "The Eternal City" and others, can easily imagine how well her role in this play suits her emotional genius. Another five-act feature on the same program is "Spellbound." Lois Meredith's latest triumph. This play is a melodrama of gripping power. It is the story of the strange occult influence of an Indian idol over a young girl and how it alters her whole life and the lives of those immediately connected with her. It brings great sorrow upon her when her lover is charged with murder and is about to be convicted on a murder charge. The action of the play leads up to a terrific climax and then to a happy ending.

The comedy for the first half of this week is entitled "The Purple Lady," one of the funniest screen productions you ever saw. The Pathe News will entertain by illustrating the latest events of universal importance which are happening today. The remainder of the program for these next three days is equally enjoyable.

THE OWL THEATRE

"The Purple Lady," the first Metro-Rolle photoplay to present that wonder of versatility, Ralph Herz, than whom there is not a more distinguished actor in America, will be the attraction at the Owl theatre today and tomorrow, the holiday. This five-act feature is a masterpiece of the stage success of the same name by Sidney Rosenfeld and the names of both the author and the star, Mr. Herz are as well known in Europe as in America.

"The Purple Lady" presents a most delightful contrast. It introduces into the most up-to-date tango parlors, the members of the Uplift society, who are attempting to reform the world. Instead of being shocked, one member of this society, which has been a dancing young tango artist, and together they set out to see the gay sights of New York. A superb necklace of matchless pearls which has been stolen comes into the story at the point. Now these first adorn the beautiful dancer, how they then come into the possession of the reformer, then the detective's wife is told with breathless interest in this novel photoplay, which finishes with a real surprise. Comedy as well as thrilling moments abound in this gripping detective story. A big surrounding show of excellent Universal features will also be presented in conjunction with "The Purple Lady."

CANOBIE LAKE

Canobie Lake Park theatre offers for the entire week its first vaudeville program of the season, consisting of six acts, the finest the country offers.

Plans have been made to give Canobie patrons the greatest attractions procurable at the theatre and the selection of acts for the coming week is surely in keeping with this policy. As many of the cities from which Canobie derives its patronage have vaudeville during the winter, great care will be taken not to show at the lake theatre anything that has been offered in the city during the past winter, unless it is an exceptionally good one.

One of the big features of the bill is that of Branon's Midget Horses, an exceptionally good horse act. Seldom does one see so many midget horses as is carried in this act. Every horse has an equal part and each one does his part well. It is an act that the children will appreciate as much as the elders.

Rowe Bros. comedy cyclists mix up a lot of thrills with some fine comedy and make up an attractive act as one would want to see.

MacAvoy and Brooks in "The News-her and the Maid" have song and talk numbers aplenty and all latest stuff too, good from beginning to end.

Dona Cooper and company with the dramatic sketch, "Hari Kali" are an exceptionally clever dramatic cast. Dona Cooper being one of the recognized favorites of the American stage.

"The Peerless Trio" are all to the merry with their mixture of song and talk to the accompaniment of the accordion and piano.

Taken collectively the whole show fairly bristles with brightness and is indeed a good offering for the first week's vaudeville.

EXCESSIVE MEAT EATING

Most people who are troubled with flatulency eat more meat than is good for them. Flatulency is wind on the stomach. Excessive meat eating and defective nerve force is responsible in most cases.

Cutting down the amount of meat in your diet and taking a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to strengthen the weak nerves that control the digestive processes is well worth trying if you have wind on the stomach, sour risings in the throat, a feeling of weakness in the stomach and palpitation of the heart. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are recommended for thin blood and weak nerves, whatever the cause.

Send today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the diet book "What to Eat and How to Eat." It gives information regarding the tonic treatment for many forms of stomach trouble. There cannot be perfect digestion without a sufficient supply of red blood and there is nothing better than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to enrich the blood and tone up the stomach.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be mailed, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

STORM SWEEP OVER CITY

Telephone and Car Service Badly Damaged—Lowell Escaped Real Fury of Elements

The thunder storm which broke over Lowell late yesterday afternoon was one of the most violent of the season, although its fury was spent mainly outside Lowell. True, the telephone service and the car service were seriously damaged and on some streets there were washouts; but these results were trifling compared to the wreckage wrought by lightning and wind in the suburbs and especially in Tewksbury. Heavy rain and hail marked the onset of the storm. The rain set in again later in the night and continued until daylight.

Narrow Escape
Mr. and Mrs. Henri Simard and their two month old baby, residing at 47 Woodcock street, Pawtucketville, had a narrow escape from death or serious injury yesterday afternoon during the storm, when a lightning bolt struck their home. The couple and their child were in the kitchen, and the latter being in a baby carriage, were entering their home, when a blinding flash came, followed by a loud report. Mr. Simard, who was pushing the baby carriage into the hall, received a shock and was thrown forward, against the wall of the corridor. Mrs. Simard was stunned, but soon recovered, and fortunately no one of the trio was injured. On entering the house it was found that the lightning struck the chimney and tore off considerable plaster in passing through to the earth. When the report was heard in Woodcock street, little Grace Lonselgne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Lonselgne, was in the street.

A LETTER OF IMPORTANCE.
There is nothing that will bring comfort and renewed hope to the invalid so surely as good news. When the vital forces are at a low ebb and everything seems useless, a ray of joy and assurance will stimulate the weary body to new effort and energy. IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT
HARRY BASS AND FRIENDS HAD FORTUNATE ESCAPE FROM SERIOUS INJURY
An automobile owned and operated by Harry Bass of 116 Hale street, this city, and containing six passengers, turned turtle near the pumping station on the boulevard about 5.15 yesterday afternoon and the occupants had a narrow escape from being seriously injured or killed. Fortunately all of the people were thrown clear of the car.
In the car with Mr. Bass were his wife and young son, David, and three guests, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Freedman of Maybrook street, Dorchester, and Solomon, the little son of the latter two. The Bass car was headed towards Nashua and had almost reached the pumping station when the front wheels skidded. The driver attempted to apply the brakes but before the machine could be stopped it turned turtle.
As the car went over the occupants were fortunately thrown clear of the car or else one or more fatalities might have resulted.
Anthony F. Dragon and Harry Cote, two passing autoists, took the occupants of the overturned car to the Lowell General hospital where an examination failed to disclose any very serious injuries. Mr. Bass had a slight injury to one of his shoulders; his wife had a fractured rib. Mr. Freedman received only lacerations of one ankle and Mrs. Freedman's face was bruised and cut. Both children escaped with minor injuries, one of them sustaining a scalp wound and the faces of both receiving numerous abrasions. The disabled machine was later righted and towed into a local garage.

SEVERAL FIRE ALARMS
FIREMEN KEPT ON JUMP BUT NO SERIOUS DAMAGE RESULTED—FIREWORKS EXPLODED
The fire department responded to several alarms yesterday. At 1.05 o'clock yesterday morning an alarm was sounded from box 217 for a fire in a house at 25 Lee street. The fire was caused by a man smoking in bed but was extinguished before much damage was done.
At 10.05 yesterday morning smoke was seen issuing from Peavey's restaurant at the corner of Central and Willard streets and a telephone alarm was sent to the central fire station, the protective company responding. There was no damage.
An alarm from box 62 at 12.21 yesterday morning summoned a portion of the department to the corner of Lakeview avenue and Central street, where a small structure owned by the Nesmith estate. Slight damage. The Fred C. Church agency carried the insurance on the property.
A few minutes after 6 o'clock a defective motor in an electric car in Bridge street, near Second, brought out Engine Co. No. 5. Before the blaze was smothered it burned a hole in the flooring of the car. The accident caused much excitement for a while.
An alarm from box 125 at 4.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon summoned a portion of the fire department to the store of D. Stamato's at 615 Market street where there was a premature explosion of fireworks. One of the fireworks exploded in the store and the fire-works happened to go out unless some person had carelessly thrown a lighted match in the window. The damage was confined to the fireworks and a broken window.

O.M.I. CADETS TO PARADE

WILL ESCORT VERY REV. T. WADE SMITH, O.M.I. FROM DEPOT TO SACRED HEART GROUNDS
All members of the O.M.I. Cadets, including those connected with the drum corps, will meet at their armory, the Immaculate Conception school hall tomorrow afternoon at 1.15 o'clock. They will form in parade formation at once and then proceed to the Middlesex street depot, where they will meet Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O.M.I., who is returning from an extended business trip, and escort him to the Sacred Heart parish grounds, where a reception for the beloved clergyman will be held. The cadets will wear their full dress uniforms and Rev. D. A. Sullivan, O.M.I., chaplain, is anxious to have every member in line.

DESTRUCTIVE CYCLONE

Continued
Flowers were thick in the monster's path, but their beauty did not appeal to the destructive stranger. The singing of the birds ceased for the time being and a pathetic sight witnessed by The Sun man who covered the course of the cyclone this morning, was a poor mother who had lost all but one of her babies and she was clinging sadly over it when the reporter reached her. She was not the least afraid and when a man working in the street picked up the little baby and placed it on a low branch of a neighboring tree, more robbin flew to its side and in a few minutes it was safe in its nest. Nobody found any trace of any dead robins about, but it was taken for granted that there were at least three in the family and that the other two had been killed. And the cyclone seemed merciful, too, so far as life was concerned. The houses that were taken with their houses high into the air came back in safety to terra firma. There were trees struck by lightning that the cyclone did not reach and in some instances the foliage disappeared from the trees, which were scared and burned as though a forest fire had swept by. Wires were torn down and lights and telephones were put out of commission by the cyclone. The greatest damage suffered by any one individual fell to the lot of Arthur C. Tingley, florist, whose place was virtually destroyed. His loss will probably reach into the thousands and while he had his property insured against fire he did not have any cyclone insurance of which there is very little, if any, in this section.

Direction of Cyclone
The cyclone came from the farther side of Round pond and gained such force that the strongest tree was but a pine stick in its way. The only damage reported from the farther side of Round pond was to the hot house of Louis Smith where considerable glass was broken. On its way across the pond the wind lifted the water high into the air making a veritable sea of foam. William Speck's place in Main street was the first to be visited on the village side of the pond and the houses were raised high into the air and carried to a distance of several yards. But so far as could be ascertained, no one was killed. Trees were uprooted and out buildings were torn down and the dangerous frolic paid its respects to David Williams and after his untimely and very undesirable guest had departed Mr. Williams looked out upon a rather disheartening scene. Where a great long hemlock and wagon sized tree stood there was nothing but a pile of debris and torn earth. Trees were uprooted and the ground was actually furrowed.
The cyclone then shot on to the places occupied by William H. Lee, Augustus Shedd and Louis Gibbons in Lee street, not many yards from Mr. Williams' place and it left destruction enough in its wake to remind these people for some time to come of the visitor who passed through on the afternoon of Sunday, July 2, 1916. There were men and women who said to The Sun man today that they would never forget the day and date. Parts of the roof of the Gibbons' house was torn off, trees uprooted, telephone poles torn down and outbuildings carried from one corner of the lot to another.

Tackled Tornado
The cyclone then crossed Lee street and began its depredations on the other side by twisting and stripping the cupola and tearing doors from the town barn. A big elm in front of the barn was uprooted and in this very instance, perhaps, more than in any other the cyclone gave the greatest exhibition of strength. The roots of the big tree went into the street and the earth was packed hard about them. But the mighty force of the wind raised earth, stones and all and the earth that went with the roots would cover a space 50 feet square. After twisting the cupola and tearing the doors from the barn, the cyclone went on to the Clarence Clark estate near occupied by William Huey. The buildings on this estate did not suffer but pretty nearly everything in the nature of a tree or shrub was uprooted.
The next number on the wind's program of sports was played at Frank Farmer's place. The windmill was the first object of attack and it was twisted and turned as a quick sudden gale might turn an umbrella. A big shed near the Farmer house was turned almost on end and the top of the big school wagon was crushed in before reaching the shed. The wind had uprooted somewhere in the neighborhood of forty trees, principally spruce trees. The boughs on the spruce trees were so thick that the wind could not go through them and as a result the trees were turned completely over. Other big trees fell all around the house, but the only buildings damaged was the shed and outbuildings.

Gelineau—Massicotte
A pretty marriage took place yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's rectory when George Gelineau and Miss Eva Massicotte, both of South Lowell were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed at 2.30 by Rev. Augustin Gratot, O.M.I. The bride was attended by her father, Joseph Massicotte, while the bridegroom's witness was his brother, Chas. Gelineau. At the close of the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, 34 Easton street, and in the evening a reception took place at the home of the bridegroom in Rumford street. Mr. and Mrs. Gelineau, who were the recipients of numerous costly gifts, will make their home at 34 Easton street.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

Whether considered in relation to the great war in the old world or the situation in Mexico, Independence day this year is a day for thought and reflection. For many years it has been a day of noise and empty celebration, devoid of special significance, and though all Americans honored it in one way or another, few realized its real meaning. Now, with the shadow of war hanging over us and with our national consciousness aroused anew, it is really a national holiday—even though officially we have no celebration. Meant to mark the American Declaration of Independence in congress, July 4, 1776, it is a day on which we should take stock and ask if we are still true to the spirit of the matchless Declaration of Independence and the spirit of the men who signed it.

With regard to preparedness, what is the message of July 4? That this great nation should be so prepared to defend its rights and institutions that the liberties gained by the founders of the nation may be preserved for our children and through them handed on to generations yet unborn. As President Wilson said in his speech before the Press club in New York, there is no need to prove the wisdom of preparedness, though men may differ as to the details. America should be prepared in the fullest sense to stand for right and honor, but we should guard our heritage lest in the zeal of too great preparedness we be led into the dangers of militarism or aggression.

With regard to those who have come to be known as "hyphenated Americans," the message of the day is the need for undivided loyalty. The men who signed the Declaration of Independence were men of many races, but when they thought of this country they abandoned allegiance to any other. So today the anniversary of the great declaration calls for a national revival that shall weld all our racial stocks into one American people, made a strong and loyal unit by devotion to one country and one cause. This great holiday teaches the people of America to remember the ideals of those who founded the nation and to keep to the front through the noise and the superficial celebration the present need for devotion to the greatest and best country in the world.

TO PREVENT KILLINGS

It is a pity that all who have taken any interest in the reports of the many killings in lower Belvidere could not make a personal investigation of the region and see for themselves its shortcomings and its possibilities. Few residential streets of the city are more congested than Howe, Davidson, Wall, Fayette and other streets in this section, and yet there is scarcely a spot where children can play without danger. There is always heavy automobile traffic through East Merrimack street, and there is considerable teaming through the streets that branch off. In many spots there the canal bank is absolutely unprotected, though owners have signified their intention of remedying this danger.

Children take to play as naturally as they learn to breathe and if they cannot find a safe place they will play elsewhere. No matter how carefully parents may watch and supervise, youngsters will ramble into the busy street and make of it a common playground. The toll paid in Belvidere is only too well known, but still the children may be seen playing without thought of danger in the way of autos and electric cars.

Right in the heart of this district, in the vicinity of Howe and Wall streets, there is a large space, 11,000 square feet or so, which is owned by the Day State Street Railway company and which is assessed for $55,000. It would be a good idea for the city to get hold of this and to convert it into a playground for the use of the locality. Some swings there and chutes and sand piles would transform an ugly spot into a practical playground which would draw the children from the busy streets and help materially to reduce auto deaths to a minimum. The sum of $5000 may seem a great deal at this time, but it would be a very low price for the two children who were killed by automobiles on East Merrimack street last week. It would also tend to wean the children from the waterfront and thus allay the fears of the scores of parents who are now in dread of dire news from morning until night.

REAL DEVELOPMENT

It is only a little while back to the time when residents of a locality dreaded the coming of the "development" association that used to open up new tracts of land for building and trading purposes. The fear was in the main well founded because these companies of promoters had little care for anything except to make a good sum out of the venture. They figured that they took the risks and they cared nothing for civic standards or the feeling of the people of the neighborhood so long as they could erect the cheapest possible house and sell it for the highest possible figure. This accounts for the fact that such new sections in all cities have such poor streets and correspondingly poor living facilities.

Now a change is apparent, and it is being recognized that to develop a section in an attractive way may be good business. Some real estate dealers in Lowell have been building a number of attractive houses and laying out a portion of the surrounding land in lawns and shrubberies. These houses sell more readily than the plain type and the people who get hold of them are usually the kind who want to keep the property in good condition. Accordingly this better kind of development really develops and does not run down a district like the fictitious development of an older day.

The city should be ever mindful of danger along these lines and should not permit real estate juggling that is likely to lower civic standards. As in the case of the shingle roof, improvement may not all come at once, but if a certain standard is demanded it will in time predominate. Visits to certain new groups of dwelling houses in Lowell will serve to show all who are interested what should be done to ensure development of property that the city will not have to regret later.

ADVANCE BY ALLIES

The great Anglo-French drive against the Germans on the western front has commenced with a vigor that promises far reaching results, and already the papers are assuming that this is the offensive predicted for so long. It is yet too soon to essay the role of prophet with any degree of success, but if the allies are prepared to furnish the ammunition in an unprecedented way this may prove the most decisive blow of the war. It would seem that the great requirements for a successful drive are now well known to the French and English and it does not seem likely that they would attempt a "strong offensive" without being ready to back it up. In men and in munitions they are now superior, but being the aggressors they must be ready to pay any price demanded by the resistance. Even though the allies continue to be successful in this attack—and they have already captured 60 square miles, it is said, it would take a considerable time to drive the Germans out of France and Belgium. Success on a large scale, however, would enable them to dictate peace terms and would make Germany abandon its attitude of aggressive patronage. This is a chance for England to restore her prestige which has been damaged by blunders on all sides, and a successful drive against the Germans kept up for a period long enough to make a decided impression would restore English spirits which have been none too sanguine since the failure at Gallipoli. The Germans will probably strive all the harder to capture Verdun as a counter stroke unless the men who fight there are needed to resist the allies' onslaught. Should the present drive continue for a week without interruption, Germany will be in a dangerous position, owing to her growing shortage of men and munitions.

THE "THIRD" COURSE

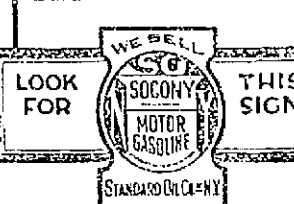

Referring to the Mexican situation and suggesting possible means of its settlement the Springfield Union says: Under present conditions two courses only are open to us. One is to continue the policy of "watchful waiting," and employ a sufficient military force to protect adequately our own territory. The other is intervention of the thorough-going kind that will result in the establishment of such a government as we inaugurated for Cuba. A continuance of watchful waiting seems at this moment the easier way, but it may prove to be the more difficult and costly in the end. There is no telling how long it would have to be kept up. The Carranza government that President Wilson has so assiduously fostered can hardly be called a government. It is likely at any time to be overthrown and its overthrow attended with a fresh period of disorder.

There is a third course and it seems better than either because it promises to blend the good qualities of each while avoiding the dangers. This course is that already favored by The Sun, viz: that the government of the United States should call for an international commission at Mexico City to settle the Mexican question under the Monroe Doctrine with the co-operation of all the Americas. The troops might still be kept on the border as a moral force and a protection for Americans and American interests, and the work of the commission might be continued until there is peace and a promise of future order in Mexico. We have no wish for any Mexican settlement that cannot be accepted by the Argentine Republic, Bolivia, Chile, Peru and other lands to the south, and we have no desire for war while there is any other way out of the perplexity. This method would be more potent than mere "watchful waiting" and it might prove more effective than armed intervention. Has the Union considered it?

LOWELL AGAIN LEADS

The first announcement that the Ninth regiment had arrived at El Paso meant a great deal to Massachusetts and in one sense it meant even more to other states. All the states of the Union have responded to the call of the commander-in-chief at Washington, and there was an eager if friendly rivalry between them as to which troops should be first on the spot. In this part of the country the papers made a good deal of our alleged unpreparedness, and yet while the accusations were partly true Massachusetts was the first state to have its soldier sons at the Mexican border. In things patriotic Lowell has always led, and if the present spirit of the people continues, it always will. The towns that surround us gave their share to the Revolutionary war, and all our school children know that Lowell boys were the first to fall in the Civil war. Once again the gallant Lowell boys are true to their traditions, and the name of this city will be upheld by the hundreds who went to El Paso in the first response to the call of President Wilson.

permanently with perfect ease and safety. What your hair will ever with Q-Ban, the only guaranteed hair color restorer, every day and expose it to the sunlight and air—then your hair will gradually and evenly change to its original uniform dark shade. Absolutely not a trace of gray hair will be left and nobody can ever tell how it happened. Just rub Q-Ban on your hair, and your hair will be much more glossy, lustrous, soft and fluffy than ever before—and fascinating to behold.

The secret of this wonderful change in the color of your hair is mainly brought about by process of oxidation (oxygen in the air) which results from drying your hair in the sunlight and air after Q-Ban has been applied. Sunlight and air are Nature's own dyes and a very important part of the Q-Ban process. Only in this way—with Q-Ban and the aid of sunlight and air—can the color be permanently and safely restored to your hair. Make no mistake about this—all preparations claiming to instantly restore the color to your hair are fakes or treacherous dyes.

Q-Ban is made from a scientific formula of glycerine, sweet oil, alcohol, and other ingredients. It is the only hair color restorer in the world, including Q-Ban nowdays, because it is safe and sane and the only guaranteed liquid hair color restorer that is absolutely free from dangerous dyes, sticky dyes and paints and we want you to know the facts.

Give Q-Ban a trial today—you can't do anything until you try it. Get it at Ricker-Jaynes Drug Store, 121 Merrimack St., Lowell, Mass.—see a bottle or write Heggis-Ellis Drug Company, Memphis, Tenn. "Ethel," he said, as they were taking a stroll one evening, "I am going to ask you an important question."

No Hot Air Stirring!
Everything in the dear old village seemed the same to Jones after his absence of four years. The old church, the village pump, the ducks on the green, the old men smoking while their wives gossip—it was so restful after the rush and bustle of the city. Suddenly he missed something.

"Where's Hodge's windmill?" he asked in surprise. "I can see only one mill and there used to be two."

The native gazed thoughtfully round as he sought to verify the statement. Then he said slowly:

"They pulled one down; there wasn't enough wind for two of 'em."

Had Watch Ever
A little chap who thinks that a watch is one thing that makes life worth living was told that for the present a watch could not be given to him.

But he continued to tease for one, until the whole family were wearied. Then his father, after explaining that he should certainly have a watch when he was older, forbade him to mention the subject again.

The next Sunday the children, as was the custom in that family, which is rather religious, repeated bible verses at the breakfast table. When it was the boy's turn, he astonished them all by saying:

"What I say unto you, I say unto all: Watch!"—Sunday School Times.

Smiles Saved Her
Miss Nell Morgan of Ashbury Park, N. J., smiled at an unusual before Magistrate Handy in court in answer to a summons served upon her for speeding. It was such an engaging smile that the magistrate was forced to smile in return.

"I'm sure," responded Miss Morgan, "that I didn't mean to go so fast. But my speedometer is out of order, and there was no one on the street. Was there?" and she turned to Cody with that bewitching smile. Cody smiled and, thawing fast replied:

"No, your honor; and it's her first offense, too."

"I'm sorry," said the magistrate to Miss Morgan, "that I'll have to find you guilty on the evidence. But as it's your first offense I'll suspend sentence."

For Stomach and Pocket
Much cheap fun was poked at Gladstone years ago because of his statement that before swallowing his food he invariably gave every particle 36 bites. But it was evident, even to the motorists, that the "grand old man" owned a stomach and a pocket.

By the manner in which people who ought to know better "bolt" their food one might fairly infer that they believe their stomachs to be constructed on the same principle as the pockets of a lobster, containing teeth to facilitate the process of digestion.

Mothers who wish their children to live healthy lives should always insist on all food being thoroughly masticated, as by neglect of this simple precaution the seeds of life-long ill health are always sown in early childhood.

They ought to know that no food should be swallowed till, by repeated grinding of the teeth, it has been reduced to a fine pulp and thoroughly mixed with the saliva which is secreted into the mouth by the glands filling the mouth.

There is also another highly important point to be borne in mind now that the cost of food is so high. Experience has shown that when food is properly masticated about one-third less is required than when it is insufficiently chewed with the teeth.

What happens is that by effective chewing much more nutriment is extracted and therefore less food need be eaten.

It is obvious, therefore, that the man who "bolts" his food is hit at once in his stomach and in his pocket, and living an uncomfortable sense of fullness in the one and a corresponding feeling of emptiness in the other.—Providence Tribune.

MINING IN ALASKA, 1914
The Alaska mining industry will have a very prosperous year in 1916, according to a statement by Alfred H. Brooks, of the United States Geological Survey, covering the operations during the first six months of the year. Copper mining will probably show the greatest advances. About 15 Alaska copper mines are now shipping ore, and developments are being pushed on others, indicating that they may become producers before the end of the year. There is every reason to believe, therefore, that the Alaska copper output for 1916 will be greater than that for any previous year. The gold lode mines of Alaska will also make a larger production this year than last, but it is not now expected that the placer-mining industry of Alaska will show any marked increase. The shipment of antimony from Alaska is continuing, and some tungsten ores have already been shipped from the Fairbanks district.

OUR POPULATION

Foreign Element Constitutes One Third of Entire Population

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 3.—While it is much being said and written upon the subject of Americanism, the National Geographic society comes forward with some figures concerning our foreign population and its descendants that are particularly timely and authoritative. They bring out some striking facts concerning the makeup of our national body politic. The society's bulletin on the subject is as follows:

"It is a fact generally recognized that the foreign population of the United States together with sons and daughters of parents one or both of whom are or were of foreign birth constitutes a third of the entire population of the country."

"In a number of states the percentage of foreign birth or parentage exceeds in numbers those of native birth and parentage. This condition obtains in Massachusetts, where the foreign element by birth or parentage is twice as great as the element of unmixed native lineage. That state had, in 1910, 1,105,000 people both of foreign birth and parentage and 525,000 of unmixed native birth. Against this there is a population of 2,221,000 who were either born abroad themselves, or had one or both parents born abroad."

"The same condition prevails in Rhode Island. That state has a population of 155,521 of native ancestry against 372,651 of foreign birth or parentage."

"In Connecticut we find a population of native ancestry aggregating 325,000, and of foreign birth or ancestry aggregating 765,000."

"In New York there is a population of native ancestry of 3,221,000. Against this there is a population of foreign birth or foreign ancestry amounting to 5,715,000."

"The balance in favor of the population of foreign birth or foreign ancestry, in whole or in part, in New Jersey is 425,000. The population of native ancestry amounts to 1,010,000, against 1,435,000 in the case of the foreign element."

"Illinois also falls in the list of states where the population of full native stock is smaller than that of foreign birth or foreign or partly foreign ancestry. Its population of native ancestry amounts to 2,500,000. Against this there is a population of wholly or partly foreign birth and ancestry of 2,925,000, a difference of 425,000."

"Michigan also falls in this class, with 1,500,000 wholly or partly of foreign birth and ancestry as compared with 1,221,000 of pure native lineage."

"Minnesota has nearly three times as many people born abroad, or with one or both parents of foreign birth, as she has of sons and daughters of native stock. Her population of foreigners and their children totals 1,483,000 as compared with 575,000 for the native element."

"Montana has 189,000 people of foreign birth and foreign or mixed ancestry, as against 162,000 of native ancestry. Wyoming gets into the same column by about the same proportion. The state of Washington has 350,000 more of the foreign than of the native element, while California practically breaks even."

"Taking the statistics of the male population twenty-one years of age and upward for the entire country, it is found that only 48.9 per cent. of them are of straight, white native ancestry. The negro element adds 3.1 per cent to this, and the remainder, 47.3 per cent, is represented by the men of foreign birth or the sons of foreign or mixed parentage."

"Taking the different states, we find some striking statistics. In the proportion of foreign birth or foreign or mixed ancestry to native, among the men of 21 years and upward, North Dakota takes first rank among the states with 73.9 per cent. belonging to the former class. Minnesota ranks next with 77.7 per cent., and Wisconsin third with 75.1 per cent."

"Approximately two-thirds of the men in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York and Utah are sons or grandsons of foreign lands. In New Jersey, Illinois, Michigan, South Dakota and Montana the proportion ranges from 61 per cent. to 57 per cent., while in Nebraska, Nevada, Washington and California it is slightly more than half."

"In Utah it falls to 48.8 per cent., in Wyoming to 45.9 per cent., in Missouri to 29.7 per cent. in Kansas to 30.8 per cent. and in Oregon to 40.4 per cent."

POLICE GO 50-50

Charge Cohasset and Hingham Cops Split

Proceeds of Auto Trap

BOSTON, July 3.—When you pass through Hingham with the rear lights of your automobile in eclipse, you may have wondered at the remarkable efficiency of a traffic policeman on the Cohasset side of the town's boundary line, who stands in the middle of the road, hails you, and summons you into court because your lamps were not trimmed and burning. But did you suspect this same efficiency extended to the ultimate destination of the witness fees paid to that vigilant Cohasset guardian for appearing against you in court?

Chief Thomas Bates of Cohasset has found out about it, and he declared an armistice in the war against autoists in that town. Therefore the autoists are happy, but there is consternation among the Hingham police.

The Hingham-Cohasset auto trap is simplicity itself. There used to be a more elaborate device, to catch the joy-rioter and few take a chance on going through the two towns "on the high." But the rear light gave a better chance for the traffic sleuths. Usually an autoist doesn't know that his lights are out. Therefore when Traffic Officer Ira Adams of Hingham gives a passing auto the once over, and blinks his flash light toward the direction of Cohasset, it doesn't mean that Traffic Officer Sidney Beal of Cohasset has to have second sight to know that the autoist is in the trap. He stops the car and summons the wondering chauffeur or owner into court.

Now that is what is known as a one-way trap. The arrests are in Cohasset, not in Hingham. Perhaps it was this fact which aroused the curiosity of Chief Bates when his attention was called to the fact that autoists were appearing in the Cohasset court at an average of seven a day for violating the light rule, while the hunting didn't seem to be nearly as good in Hingham.

In Hingham the police department regularly appears in court. But the Cohasset constabulary is rewarded with a large, round dollar for each appearance. And it makes a difference.

Chief Bates thought it over and put his suspicions up to Policeman Beal. Beal admitted it. Chief Bates says he collects the dollar, and hands a half dollar over to Policeman Adams, as guardian of the Hingham end of the trap. It is fairly lucrative. Last season something like $630 was collected in witness fees. A good day brings seven victims, $7, $3.50 to each policeman.

The Cohasset selectmen concede that there is nothing illegal about it, but Chief Bates looks on it as a system of commercializing the work of the traffic squads, encouraging the men to make arrests rather than use some degree of discretion.

Following a conference with the selectmen, Chief Bates last night issued orders that Policeman Beal should no longer act on traffic work in conjunction with the Hingham office. This explains a bona fide precincts ruled by Chief Washington I. James, under whose leadership the trap has been conducted. And there are rumors of open warfare between the police of the two towns.

Chief Bates and members of the Cohasset board of selectmen said last night that there will be no plan to remove Policeman Beal from the force if he discontinues his part in the working of the trap.

The Cohasset chief says, in explanation of his orders, that while he does not advocate court leniency in dealing with autoists who willfully violate the law, he believes that much discretion should be used in summoning drivers of automobiles into court when the reason why their rear lights are out is battery trouble or a leaky oil lamp.

BABIES TAKEN OFF BOAT

FORTY ON BOARD BOSTON FLOATING HOSPITAL WHICH WENT AGROUND YESTERDAY

BOSTON, July 3.—Carried out of her course by a strong current, the Boston Floating hospital grounded yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the North channel, just off Castle Island. Her captain summoned the police. Her captain, returning from her daily inspection of the lower harbor, and although there was not the slightest danger to the 40 babies and their mothers, it was decided to transfer the patients to the police boat.

The women and children were taken from the hospital boat in lifeboats and taken to the Guardian, which lay a short distance away. Within half an hour all hands were safe on the tug and were brought to Constitution wharf. The nurses and doctors remained on the ship.

Just before the flood tide last night the Floating hospital was released from her muddy bed and came to her berth at North End park unassisted, without having sustained any damage.

other patriotic airs greeted their ears, coming they knew not whence. The music emanated from the cottage of the Flushing club, on the shores of Flushing pond, where the club held a flag-raising and presentation. The members who are all Lowell men, and their guests in the number of about 50 assembled at the camp about noon, and half an hour later three rousing cheers announced the arrival of Mayor O'Donnell, who was invited to make a few remarks as the flag went up. His Honor, introduced in graceful remarks by Mr. Charles A. Connors, responded with a brief but eloquent and appropriate address to the occasion and the spirit of the times. When the flag had been unfolded to the winds Mayor O'Donnell called forth Mr. John H. Barry, the popular steward of the club, who during the exercises was busily engaged in the preparation of a sumptuous repast. When Mr. Barry emerged from the kitchen his Honor in a happy presentation speech handed over to the surprised chef, a handsome gold watch, with his monogram inscribed on the case, a gold chain and gold cigar-cutter charm, the gift of his assembled friends. Mr. Barry was too surprised to say much but he managed to thank his friends and his actions spoke louder than his words. Immediately after the presentation the guests sat down to a turkey dinner, with a choice variety of vegetables fresh from the neighboring farms. After the dinner an impromptu entertainment was given in which all of the patriotic songs of the country were lustily sung to the accompaniment of Buckley's orchestra of six pieces. A feature of the orchestral number were violin solos by Mr. Frank Duggan. An added attraction also was the appearance with his "company" of Prof. Leonard Galloway, the well known ventriloquist who entertained in fine manner with his delightful act. Then there were songs by Joseph Tuttle, Dick Galloway, John Brady, and a musical front with "Chick" Connors as interlocutor and the celebrated Kane Brothers, "Will" and "Chick" with bones and tambos. The guests remained until sunset when the flag was reverently lowered to the music of "The Star Spangled Banner" played by the orchestra and sung by all present. The members of the Flushing club are Messrs. Florence J. Murphy, president; William Sullivan, Thomas H. Kennedy, James T. Dunne, John F. Frain, Louis LaFamme, Charles A. Connors, William H. Kane, John H. Barry and Fred Welch.

POLICE COURT CASES

ONLY MINOR CASES BEFORE JUDGE ENRIGHT THIS MORNING—MANY DRUNKS RELEASED

There were many drunken offenders before Judge Enright in police court this morning, despite the fact that Probation Officer Slattery had released twenty prior to the opening of court.

He Made Restitution

Antonios Koutalis was charged with the larceny of $5.75 in money and a pocketbook, the property of Joaquim Ferreira. Both men are employed in one of the local mills and on the 24th of June, Ferreira while changing his clothing placed his pocketbook on a window sill. He was called away by the boss and when he returned in about five minutes he found the pocketbook missing. He reported the matter to Major E. J. Noyes and the latter after an investigation arrested Koutalis. Koutalis agreed to make restitution and after doing so and paying the costs of court his case was placed on file.

Stole a Pair of Shoes

Demetrius Bournakis went into the basement of the A. G. Pollard Co. store Saturday night and plying up a pair of shoes put them under his coat and started to walk out, but a clerk who had seen him detained him until the police were summoned and the man placed under arrest.

George F. Toye, Esq., who appeared for the defendant this morning, said that the latter was under the influence of liquor at the time and went into the store with the intention of purchasing a pair of shoes but for some reason or other he stole them. He said that if the man had not been drinking the larceny would not have been committed. Bournakis was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $7.

Arrested on Old Complaint

Fred Lamarche was before the court on a complaint charging him with failing to provide proper support for his wife. He entered a plea of not guilty and when it was found that his wife was not pregnant, the court discharged him. Lamarche said that he had been sworn out about 18 months ago but that Lamarche had not been in this city for a long time and when he was seen on the street was placed under arrest. Lamarche said that he and his wife have been living together in Lawrence and he has been supporting her. Lamarche was found not guilty and discharged.

Drunk Offenders

John Draddy, Festus Braxton and Martin Curran, charged with drunkenness, were each ordered to pay a fine of $10. Jennie Courtemanche was sentenced to 15 days in jail and Mary McKown was sent to the same place for three months.

John F. Murphy was given a direct sentence to the state farm. Luther G. Flynn was given a suspended sentence to the state farm. Edward Fortin was sentenced to two months in jail.

High School Uniform

William J. Desmond was charged with the larceny of one shirt, a pair of pants and a pair of stockings, all of the value of $4.50, the property of James A. Shanley, faculty manager of the Lowell high school baseball team. It is alleged that Desmond was a member of the high school baseball team for some reason refused to return his uniform at the end of the season as required. William J. Carroll who appeared for Desmond waived the reading of the complaint and entered a plea of not guilty. Richard Brabrook Walsh appeared for the government.

CASEMENT APPEAL

LONDON, July 3.—The hearing of the case of Sir Roger Casement, who on June 25 was found guilty of high treason and sentenced to death for complicity in the Irish rebellion, has been fixed for July 17.

FIRE AT NO. BILLERICA

Quick work by the Talbot mill fire department prevented a serious fire at North Billerica about 9 o'clock yesterday morning when a blaze was discovered on the roof of a six tenement block located at 82-90 Wilson street. The fire, which probably started from a spark from a chimney, was discovered before it had reached any serious proportions and an alarm was sounded. Members of the Talbot mill fire department responded promptly and had the blaze extinguished when the town department arrived. The damage was not heavy.

POSITIONS TO BE FILLED

Gov. McCall May Nominate on Wednesday—The Chief Offices and the Candidates

Special to The Sun.

STATE HOUSE, Boston, July 3.—Governor McCall is planning to submit to the council at its meeting next Wednesday nominations to practically all of the positions created by the last legislature, and he hopes also to be able to take action in respect to those officials whose terms have expired. Among the positions awaiting action by his Excellency are the following: Public service commissioner, salary $8,000. The term of Everett E. Stone of Springfield expired Saturday; it is expected that he will be re-appointed. Supervisor of administration, salary $5,000, to take the place of the present board of economy and efficiency, with a combined salary of $14,000. For this position Thomas W. White, a member of the present board, is likely to be selected. Under him there will be two, and possibly three, deputies. Gas and electric light commissioner, salary $4,500. The term of Thomas H. Riley, formerly chairman of the democratic state committee and assistant attorney general under Thomas J. Lloyden, expired Saturday, and he will not be re-nominated. Civil service commissioner, salary $2,000. The term of Harvey N. Shepard of Cambridge expires today, and he will not be re-appointed, for the reason that the board at present consists of two democrats and one republican. There are no prominent candidates for this position.

Member of the board of conciliation and arbitration, salary $2,500. A peculiar situation exists in this board, which there is reason to believe the governor intends straightening out. Last winter its members submitted to the legislature a single recommendation, viz., that their salaries be increased to $4,500. When it began to look as though the increase would not be allowed, Commissioners Charles C. Wood and Frank M. Bump announced their intention of leaving the board. There were some who believed at the time that the announcement was simply an attempt to coerce the legislature into allowing the increase, but if such was the case it certainly was ill-advised, for it was received with positive joy in certain quarters and the salary increase will go quickly put to death.

Then there is a $7,500 place as director of insane institutions, to take the place of the present board of insanity. Dr. Michael J. O'Shea of Worcester and Dr. Vernon Briggs of Boston, both members of the present board, the former being its chairman, are candidates for either the directorship or positions on the advisory council of four.

The biggest fight, however, is in connection with membership of the new waterways commission and of the industrial accident board, and events of the past few days have operated to make the fight an interlocking one. The waterways commission is to consist of three members, an administrator, salary $4,000 and each of the others $4,000, and they are to replace both the directors of the port of Boston and the present harbor and land commission.

Naturally, it is expected that one democrat will be given a place on the new board, and the chairman of each of the existing boards is a candidate for the place. Edward F. McWeney of the port directors and William S. McNulty of the harbor and land commission are among the hottest kind of a campaign, not because either is particularly desirous of the place, but simply to test their relative strength as democratic leaders. Already the contest has become so bitter that Governor McCall is more than likely to select a dark horse, and if he finally decides to take that course, he will probably select Dudley M. Holman of Taunton, the member of the accident board whose term recently expired.

Mr. Holman's friends have already been told that he will not be re-appointed. The governor has made it plain that he regrets very much that Mr. Holman should be the member of the board whose term expires at this time, because he knows that Holman has done excellent work on the board. He feels that there should be at least one regular republican on this board of five members, and he has decided to put one there.

Whether Mr. Holman would take the place on the waterways commission is a matter of some doubt, because his place has been in the work of the accident board ever since it was established.

For his position on the accident board there is a merry scramble going on, with Rep. Henry Achin of Lowell, former Rep. Robert N. Turner, now living in Arlington, and Attorney James J. Tierney of Salem setting the pace, although there is a large field of other aspirants.

It is the opinion of those in a position to know that Rep. Achin's services to the republican party will be recognized in a suitable manner. HOYT.

DIVISION OF AUTHORITY

day returned the squadron of the 11th cavalry sent under Major John M. Jenkins to search for the survivors of Carrizal. These officers took only a little of the experiences, but their horses from Pershing revealed the story of a march unequalled in the present expedition.

While scouting near Carrizal for some trail that would give a hint of the location of the retreating American soldiers Major Jenkins made a night stop at an abandoned windmill. All about stretched the desert and its powdery dust which the men had inhaled at every breath. A few clumps of greasy weed with a few yellow leaves, were the only signs of life on the plain on three sides. To the south stood a low range of mountains. No road; no trail; no sign of habitation marked the sandy waste.

"I rode to the trough at the windmill's foot," Major Jenkins said. "There was water there, but it was so full of dust that the horse, his throat raw with thirst, reared when he sniffed."

"That night the cavalrymen cleaned the trough. They repaired the windmill by tying handkerchiefs about the broken bushes. A desert gale, yellow with dust, blew from the north, and the command awoke at daybreak to find the windmill becalmed and their horses too weakened by days of hard riding through the desert to be risked without a drink, to the next water hole."

Four troopers were sent to the top of the windmill with orders to turn it by hand. The rickety structure trembled with age. When a puff of wind sent the wheel spinning, the brown, bearded cavalrymen below cheered. The stream produced was little larger than a lead pencil, but after an hour each horse and man had been given a small drink.

"The command encountered for the first time in Mexico, caliche rock, a sort of dry clay, the dust of which filled the air when the wind freshened and settled in the eyes, ears and nostrils of men and animals. The horses discovered that they could quench thirst temporarily by nipping galleta grass, containing succulent shoots."

"Lack of feed for the horses caused the squadron to back, finally abandoning their search. It was still many miles from the headquarters camp when the last of the oats was fed to the mounts. For a time it seemed as if the horses must perish but the men pushed through by sheer will and hard work of dust."

When the squadron arrived here today the trucks accompanying the column were in the lead and had passed through sand wastes heretofore believed impassable.

10,000 TROOPS WILL LEAVE

CAMPS FOR BORDER THIS WEEK

NEW YORK, July 3.—While Major Gen. Leonard Wood says that the movement of militia from the department of the east toward the Mexican border has passed its climax, he estimates that 10,000 more troops will leave their home mobilization camps during the present week. Nine states out of 22 under Gen. Wood's command have sent National Guard units southward. Massachusetts and New Jersey have dispatched the larger proportion of their available men. New Jersey, in proportion to its size, has sent the largest number of troops in this respect, for only 307 militiamen from that state were left in mobilization camps today, while 4056 are on their way to the border.

Among the commands under order to entrain today was squadron of New York City, which probably numbers more wealthy men than any militia organization of equal size in service.

Figures issued at General Wood's headquarters show that 6437 militiamen have been sent forward from Massachusetts, 1039 from Maine, 388 from Vermont, 181 from Rhode Island, 2221 from Connecticut, none from New Hampshire, and 5643 from New York.

In Massachusetts 1780 state troops are now at concentration camps; 439 in Maine; 300 in Vermont; 452 in Rhode Island; 1071 in Connecticut; 1339 in New Hampshire and 11,000 in New York.

30,000 NATIONAL GUARDSMEN AT OR NEAR MEXICAN BORDER

WASHINGTON, July 3.—At least 30,000 National Guardsmen probably will be on duty at the Mexican border within the next two or three days. No official information of the number either at border points or on the way is available, but the reason to believe this figure is not too high.

Soon after arrival each regiment of infantry or cavalry will be furnished with automatic machine guns, 250 of a new type of which were ordered recently for immediate delivery. As experience has shown, the guns will be carried in automobiles instead of on the backs of pack mules and five chauffeurs will be required in each regiment to operate the cars.

Officials here today were only mildly interested in reports of the latest bandit chase into Mexican territory by two troops of the Eighth cavalry under Capt. Leroy Ellinger. The party spent yesterday in a vain search south of the Rio Grande for ten bandits who drove off three horses from a ranch, 54 miles south of El Paso and last night the troops were back on the American side without having seen either the horse thieves or Carranza troops.

Still no indication had come concerning Carranza's reply to the American note demanding that he state his intentions toward Gen. Pershing's forces. President Wilson had not let it be known how long he would consent to wait before taking the Mexican question before congress.

PUZZLED OVER PROBLEM OF ENFORCING CENSORSHIP

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Army officers were puzzled today deciding how strictly they should attempt to enforce censorship on troop movements and location at the border. They had before them copies of newspapers from all over the country publishing stories from their special correspondents who are with local National Guard units arriving at border points.

While the war department has objected to the publication of specific information, officers admit privately that under present circumstances they do not blame newspapers for announcing the destination of local units. They point out that the Mexican government has not made sufficient efforts in the United States to gather these reports published in such scattered localities and to construct from them a comprehensive schedule showing strength of troops at various points along the border.

Officially the destination of all National Guard units is supposed to be a military secret. Officials thought it improbable that any step would be taken at this time toward more complete censorship. They will rely on newspapers not to publish and the public not to expect news of future shifting of forces from one point to another on the border.

GEN. GAVIRA TO RESUME

HIS COMMAND AT JUAREZ

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, July 3. (via wireless to Columbus, N. M.)—Military authorities here received reports today with much interest that Gen. Gabriel Gavira, formerly commander of the troops of the Mexican de facto government in northern Chihuahua is to resume his command in Juarez. It was pointed out that Gen. Gavira's return here was a departure for a conference with Gen. Alvaro Obregon, Mexican minister of war, had shown a disposition to co-operate with the American forces, especially after his conference with Gen. Pershing at Casas Grandes at which the consular officials had been present. It seemed generally understood that if Gen. Gavira returns to Juarez it would be an indication of the intention of the de facto government to co-operate more largely with the expeditionary forces.

GUARDSMEN FOR HARD WORK

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 3.—Commanding officers of National Guardsmen at border stations today began whipping their men into shape for hard service. Although eager to convert the guardsmen into seasoned troops as quickly as possible, army officers, realizing the danger of overworking the men in the blazing heat, will not insist upon crowding them. Almost all the men have been brought from the frontier in excellent physical shape but a great majority of them are "soft" and unaccustomed to the climate.

Troop trains early today were met by detachments of Boy Scouts who at the car windows offered sleeping guardsmen blankets and coffee. The scouts were working under the direction of local organizations of women and the Red Cross who have perfected their organization for receiving all guardsmen as they arrive.

Not all the citizen soldiers have been inoculated against typhoid. It has been learned, since their arrival, although most all have been vaccinated. The medical department has been instructed to see to it that all are given the immunizing typhoid serum without delay.

It is guaranteed by those making the appeal that none of the corn will reach the military forces in Mexico.

SURVIVOR OF CARRIZAL

HELD IN CUSTODY IN JUAREZ

EL PASO, Tex., July 3.—Corporal Cooke, the 25th survivor of Carrizal to be taken captive by the Mexican troops, is being held in custody today in Juarez. General Francisco Gonzales, Mexican commandant, announced, however, that he expects to receive authorization from Gen. Jacinto Trevino today to turn over Cooke who was captured recently near Villa Ahumada after more than a week's wandering through the desert, to the American authorities here.

Cooke's story of being fed and cared for by friendly Mexicans aroused hope here that others of the 14 members of

Troop Trains Arrive

Scores of troop trains carrying the National Guard to border points continued today to pass through El Paso. Among them were the Connecticut Guard.

There were indications that the original orders as to the disposition of the militiamen had been materially altered so as to strengthen the weaker points along the border, some of the troops originally ordered to El Paso being diverted to other points.

Reports that an American border guard at Sierra Blanca, 92 miles east of here, had been killed last night by firing from the Mexican side, were declared unfounded today after an investigation.

WILSON'S SPEECH CAUSED

GOOD IMPRESSION IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, July 3.—President Wilson's speech before the New York Press club has made a deep impression here and is the subject of general comment. The paper print in large type the statement of the president that the American people do not want war and that he is not the servant of those who desire to increase their property in Mexico.

Another item which is given a prominent place in the press is a despatch from El Paso stating that the liberalization of the American troops taken prisoner at Carrizal has caused a good impression in the United States and a more sympathetic feeling toward the people and government of Mexico.

Stories that the American forces are steadily retreating northward and that the guerrilla forces have abandoned are being occupied by the constitutionalist troops have also been widely printed and have caused considerable elation among the people.

According to travelers arriving from the state of Guerrero, the consular officials here have obtained control of all the important places in that state, which has been a hot-bed of brigandage for years.

The total rainfall for the month was 5.04 inches, with the greatest precipitation in 24 hours, 1.51 inches, taking place on the 17th of the month. The number of days in which the precipitation was 0.1, or more, totaled 12. The total excess precipitation for the month, as compared with the normal, was 2.01 inches. The prevailing direction of the wind was east.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NEWS NEW HAVEN'S INCOME

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE AT SACRED HEART CHURCH—THE OTHER CHURCHES

In accordance with custom, a low mass has been substituted for the high mass during the warm season at most of the Catholic churches of the city and the usual sermon has been dispensed with until the early fall. The summer schedule of services has been adopted for the season.

There was a solemn high mass yesterday at 11 at the Sacred Heart church to commemorate the feast of the solemnity of the Sacred Heart. The special feature of the observance was the closing of the 40 hours' devotion and a procession of the officiating clergymen, altar boys and children of the parochial school. Rev. Dennis Finnegan, O.M.I., of Ottawa, Mass., celebrated, assisted by Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. There was an elaborate musical program under the direction of John J. Kelly.

The procession last evening was very impressive. The clergymen who took part were Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O.M.I., Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I., and Rev. J. J. Gallagher, O.M.I. Rev. James T. McDermott, O.M.I., had charge of the choir boys.

Plans for the reception to Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O.M.I., have now been perfected. It will be held tomorrow at 11 o'clock, and all indications point to a successful and memorable event.

Rev. J. O'Loughlin, S.J., preached at the high mass at St. Patrick's church yesterday which was celebrated by Rev. Joseph A. Curtin. Rev. Fr. O'Loughlin is continuing a retreat for the sisters of Notre Dame. The boys' sodality received communion at the 7 o'clock mass celebrated by Right Rev. William O'Brien, P. R.

The solemnity of the feast of St. Peter and St. Paul, and also of the Sacred Heart was observed at St. Peter's church yesterday with a solemn high mass at 11 o'clock, celebrated by Rev. W. George Mullin, assisted by Rev. D. J. Heffernan as sub-deacon and Rev. P. L. Crayton as sub-deacon. The sermon was delivered by the pastor, Rev. D. J. Keleher, Ph. D.

The final mass at the Immaculate Conception church was celebrated yesterday by Rev. William Hiley, O.M.I., of Tewksbury and the announcements were read by the pastor, Rev. Lawrence P. Tighe, O.M.I. Masses for the first Friday will be celebrated at 5.15, 5.30 and 8 o'clock.

Members of the Holy Rosary society received communion at the 8 o'clock mass at St. Michael's church yesterday forenoon. The pastor, Rev. John J. Shaw, was the celebrant. At the 8 o'clock mass in the down-stairs church, the members of the Children's Sodality received communion. Rev. J. P. Lynch was the celebrant.

HELD PIANO RECITAL. A delightful pianoforte recital was given last evening at the studio of L. St. Guilhaud in Merrimack street by his pupils. The affair was largely attended and the numbers given proved most enjoyable. Among those who took part were Miss Fortunata Desrosiers, Andre Desrosiers, Miss Eugenie Fratte, Sylvie Nadeau, Miss Eugenie Heroux, John O'Leary, Louis N. Guilhaud, Miss Georgina Desrosiers, Albert Gionet, Miss Bertha Brodeur, Eugene Guilhaud, Miss Alice Renaud.

Following the program medal awards and prizes were presented to the pupils by Rev. Joseph Denis, O.M.I. of St. Joseph's parish. The medal school was Misses Fortunata Desrosiers and Eugenie Heroux.

U. S. MARINES IN BATTLE

Two Encounters With Revolutionary Bands Near Santiago—One Marine Killed

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Two encounters near Santiago, Santo Domingo, July 1, between American marines and revolutionary bands, in which one marine, Private Mills, of the 31st company, was killed and three wounded, were reported to the navy department today by Rear Admiral Caperton.

Private Mills was killed in a fight between marines commanded by Col. Fendleton and one hundred revolutionists at a village named Old Cami-norral, while the Americans were advancing upon Santiago from Monte-Christi. A marine detachment advancing from another point clashed with a group of revolutionists 25 miles from Santiago. Lieut. D. B. Robinson and trumpeter Julius Goldsmith were slightly wounded and First Sergeant Fernando Barrios was seriously wounded in the leg. At Monte Christi last week, a marine was killed and several wounded.

RECEPTION TO FR. SMITH

SACRED HEART PARISH TO HONOR THE BELOVED CLERGYMAN TOMORROW

A change in the customary program of the annual reunion of the Sacred Heart parish this year when on Tuesday, July fourth, it will take the form of a monster reception to the recently retired beloved pastor, Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O.M.I. The children of the parish will gather on the grounds at 2 o'clock. At 1.30 the men of the parish will assemble at the school hall and led by the United States Cartridge company band and accompanied by the O.M.I. cadets with their life and drum corps, will proceed to the northern depot. The arrangements have been kept a profound secret from Fr. Smith, who is coming from Washington, D. C., and will arrive on the 2 o'clock train from Boston. The procession will immediately repair to the Sacred Heart grounds on Moore street, where Fr. Smith will be welcomed by songs by the choir and school children, and also by addresses by leading citizens of the city, including His Honor, Mayor James E. O'Donnell. At the close of the formal reception, the U. S. Cartridge Co. band will give an elaborate concert, during which the parishioners and friends may informally greet Fr. Smith.

Energetic committees have attended to all the details and have met with the same hearty response and enthusiasm which has ever distinguished the affairs of the Sacred Heart parish.

Alex McDonald, a boy residing in North Chelmsford, was struck last evening in North Chelmsford by an automobile bearing a New Hampshire license number. The boy was taken to St. John's hospital where he is under observation for possible internal injuries. The driver of the car took McDonald to the hospital.

Mrs. Glendower Evans, who is touring Middlesex county, delivering lectures on "The Great War and What to Do About It," spoke before a large gathering at the junction of Jackson and Central streets Saturday evening. The woman spoke from an automobile and her lecture was illustrated. The address proved very interesting.

The members of Engine Co. No. 2 were called to a fire in the rear of Rosier's market at the corner of Branch and School streets at 4:35 o'clock this morning. Some carbide used for lighting was thrown into a rubbish barrel and the water dripping off the roof and striking on the carbide caused the blaze. The fire was extinguished before any material damage was done.

The stockholders of the American Housewifery Service company with which the Lanson company of this city is associated, held their annual meeting in Wilmington, Del. Webster and James W. Wolcott.

The engagement of Miss Dorothy Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Johnson of Cambridge, and a graduate of the Rogers Hall school of this city, to Henry Wood Salisbury of New York, was announced at a luncheon given Thursday by Miss Johnson's parents at the Algonquin club. The bridegroom-to-be is a member of the 17 class at Harvard and is the son of the late Henry E. Salisbury of New York and grandson of Fernando Wood, who was mayor of New York for three years and a member of congress for 20 years.

The following notice has been posted in cars, coaches and Pullmans and stations of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad: "In order to move successfully the troops from Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York and Rhode Island, a large number of coaches and sleeping cars have been taken from regular passenger train service. This will cause inconvenience to patrons, especially during the Fourth of July business. The company asks you to bear with it at this time and remember if you are put to some inconvenience, that it is but a small one compared to the best of its ability is complying with the orders of the war department, and that your inconvenience is your contribution to the situation."

A SAD FATALITY

Boy Shot by Sister With Revolver Supposed to Be Unloaded

Edward Duprey, aged seven years and son of Paul Duprey of 270 Thorndike street, was shot in the breast by his sister last night and died before the ambulance arrived. The accident was caused by the handling of a revolver believed to be unloaded.

During the early part of the evening Eva Duprey, aged 16 years, and George Jones, had been out walking together and Jones escorted the girl to her home. Upon reaching the yard he displayed a revolver from which he fired a number of shots. Thinking that all of the cartridges had been discharged, Jones handed the revolver over to the Duprey girl. She pulled the trigger several times until finally there came a report and a 22 calibre bullet lodged in the breast of her brother, who was standing nearby.

The ambulance was summoned, but the lad had died when it arrived. The boy's body was removed to the undertakers rooms of J. F. O'Donnell & Sons and Jones was arrested and brought to police headquarters, where he was booked on a charge of carrying a revolver without a permit.

Jones in Court
Jones, who is a juvenile, appeared before Judge Enright in the latter's office this morning and a complaint charging him with carrying a loaded revolver without a license was read to him and after entering a plea of not guilty the case was continued until Friday morning.

ARMY CHANGES
WASHINGTON, July 3.—Army promotions under the new reorganization law submitted to the senate today by President Wilson were headed by the nomination of Brig. Gen. Albert L. Mills, now chief of the militia division, to be major general.

The following colonels were nominated as brigadier generals: Charles G. Morton, Fifth Infantry; Granger Adams, Fifth Field Artillery; George A. Dodd, cavalry, unassigned; Edward H. Plummer, 25th Infantry; Clarence P. Townsley, Coast Artillery.

THE FOURTH IN LOWELL

NO FORMAL CELEBRATION—BAND CONCERTS, SALUTES, AND RINGING OF CHIMES

There will be no public celebration in this city tomorrow with the exception of the firing of salutes from Fort Hill, band concerts and the ringing of chimes from St. Patrick's and St. Anne's churches. The fact that Lowell is not celebrating with pomp has been the cause of several hundred people leaving the city this morning. All the big mills and factories of the city closed their doors Saturday noon until Wednesday morning, thus giving the thousands of employees a three-days holiday and many took advantage to go to the beaches or visit relatives and friends out of town.

There was a large gathering at the railroad station early this morning and as often as the trains arrived the crowd dispersed, some going north, while others took the direction of the beaches. Of course there are many who remained at home and this was noticed by the large crowd that visited the midway on the South common this forenoon and afternoon.

Speaking about the midway, it may be said that the place was the busiest in the city yesterday. Scores of heavy laden trucks came to the city and unloaded their way to the common. The wagons and automobiles were loaded with paraphernalia of all sorts which go to make the Fourth of July a merry one for the young and middle aged persons, and it is said that at one time yesterday in Rogers street, it was believed that a Mexican garison was invading Lowell, for the equipment in many instances consisted of tents and machinery resembling artillery.

The midway opened today and the various booths and fairs' tents proved a great attraction. The affair will continue all night and all day tomorrow.

Tomorrow's civic program will open with the firing of salutes at Fort Hill at sunrise by a squad from Company C, Sixth Infantry, in charge of Sergt. Glynn. The salutes will be rung also the chimes of St. Patrick's and St. Anne's churches will be rung. Band concerts will be held at Fort Hill and the North common from 3 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and on the Highland club lawn and South common in the evening from 8 to 10 o'clock. The programs for the respective concerts will be appropriate to the day and will be well worth hearing.

ARMY MAKES TESTS OF NOISELESS, SMOKELESS, POWDERLESS GUN

FIRING THE ALBERTSON GUN

In the accompanying picture may be seen the powderless, noiseless, springless, nonchemical gun invented by Dr. Albert C. Albertson of New York and tested recently by United States army officers, at Governors island, headquarters of the department of the east. It is asserted that the gun has an effective range of 2500 yards and can fire fifteen shots in fifteen seconds and can be reloaded in ten seconds. Centrifugal force is the propulsive power, the inventor says. The gun looks like a wheel mounted on a base. A quadrant is attached for fixing the elevation of the projectile, and the wheel has a locking device for releasing a ball at any angle of the quadrant. The original model shot two ounce balls, but the new gun throws three pound balls and an explosive bomb prepared by Dr. Albertson. The power is generated by a three horsepower electric motor. The gun has received General Wood's commendation, Dr. Albertson said.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty marriage, the first to be solemnized in the upper part of St. Jean Baptiste church since the temple was gutted by fire, took place this morning, when Dr. Armand Tangway, a prominent physician of Bedford, Que., and Miss Elizabeth Labrie, a charming young woman of this city, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at a high nuptial mass at 9 o'clock by Rev. Augustin Gratton, O.M.I. The bride was handsomely attired in white silk and she carried a large bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by a relative, J. Tangway, while the bridegroom's witness was Napoleon Cossette. At the close of the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Laurent Cossette, 1 Common street, where a wedding dinner was served. Present at a festive table were friends and relatives from Haverhill, Boston and other cities. Dr. and Mrs. Tangway, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts left on the 1.40 o'clock train for Boston. They will also visit New York, Washington and Philadelphia and will return to Lowell before going to Bedford, Que., where they will make their home.

FINCH—LOFGREN

Cecil Clement Finch and Miss Olga Ulrika Lofgren were married this noon, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride, 54 Rhodora street by Rev. Allen Conant Ferrin. The bridemaids were Misses Elma Lofgren, Grace Finch and Millicent Finch, while the best man was Raymond Culver. Following the ceremony a reception was held and present were the immediate families and the bridegroom's parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Finch, as well as other relatives including Dr. and Mrs. Percy Finch, Mr. and Mrs. Halvar Lofgren, Miss Marion Farley presided at the piano and she played the wedding march. After a tour through the White mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Finch will be at home at Broadalbin, N. Y.

HAS TAKEN PRECAUTIONS AGAINST FIRES ON OR AROUND THE FOURTH

Chief E. F. Saunders of the fire department is prepared for any emergency that may arise tonight or tomorrow. Every place where rubbish has been lying loose has been cleaned up and every fireman is now on duty. About a week ago the chief notified the captains of the different companies to have their men patrol their respective sections for rubbish in cellars and alleyways and yards and see that it was cleared away before the Fourth.

Almost every person who was notified to get rid of the rubbish did so but the owner of two blocks in High street failed to do so and it was necessary for Chief Saunders to notify the police before the man agreed to clean up the shavings and other stuff which had been thrown into the passageway between the two buildings.

DIVISION OF AUTHORITY
ALONG MEXICAN BORDER

War Department Acts to Decentralize Direct Administration of the 1800 Mile Frontier

WASHINGTON, July 3.—With more than 150,000 troops assembling along the Mexican border the war department today took steps to decentralize direct administration of the 1800-mile frontier in the interest of efficiency and to pave the way for the appointment of a supreme commander to co-ordinate all military activities on the international line in Mexico.

Three Military Departments

The border, formerly in the southern department from the Gulf of Mexico to California, now is divided into three military departments commanded respectively by Major General Frederick Funston, Brig. Gen. John J. Pershing and Maj. Gen. J. Franklin Bell.

New Supreme Commander

War department officials said the new order which automatically relieves Gen. Funston of supreme command on the border and the enormous responsibilities that have crowded upon him, had no significance as indicating preparation for war. There was no formal announcement in regard to the probable selection of a senior major general for command-in-chief of the border guard and field forces. There are indications that Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, former chief of staff, and now commanding the department of the east, is being considered in this connection.

To Promote Pershing

Another probable change indicated by the new order is the promotion of Gen. Pershing under the army organization bill now effective. It provides for one additional major general, and it is believed Gen. Pershing will be given one of these posts in recognition of his services in his pursuit of the Columbus bandits.

Pershing to Stay in Mexico

The assignment of Gen. Pershing to the command of the department of New Mexico, it was stated officially, does not mean that the expedition into Mexico is about to be withdrawn or that General Pershing himself will return to direct the affairs of the department from El Paso, his new headquarters. It is assumed that he will remain in the field for the present at least.

Bell at El Paso

Brig. Gen. George Bell, Jr., will remain in direct command of the El Paso district, where his brigade is on duty.

dition to the bases it now occupies probably 100 miles closer to the border was declared by officials at the war department today to be due to military reasons alone. At the state department it was said there had been no change in policy regarding the expedition, although private advices from Mexico City assert that Carranza officials consider the movement as an indication that the expedition soon will be withdrawn and that this feeling may have some bearing on the diplomatic situation.

To Supply Expedition

Army officers explain that the problem of supplying the expedition has become more and more difficult. The rainy season is due but there has been no rain for weeks, and the country around Gen. Pershing's camp has been stripped of the last vestige of forage for his animals.

The state department had no advice today as to when a reply of Carranza to the demands sent a week ago might be expected. The Mexican embassy also was without information. Embassy officials anticipated that the formal reply to Secretary Lansing's note will be handed to Special Agent Rogers at Mexico City when it is ready for transmission.

OFFICIALS READY TO USE

ALL FORCES IN MEXICO

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 3.—Secretary Baker's order placing the American army along the Mexican border under three commanding officers, reducing Maj. Gen. Funston's command to those troops on the Texas line, was regarded in army circles here as indicating that the administration was preparing to use all the forces at its command in dealing with the Mexican situation.

ORDER CREATING NEW MEX.

ICAN DEPARTMENT SUSPENDED

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The war department announced today that the order creating a new department to be known as the New Mexico department, commanded by Brig. Gen. Pershing, had been temporarily suspended, "pending the adjustment of administrative details of the arrangement."

CHANGE RECOMMENDED

BY GENERAL FUNSTON

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 3.—The division of authority along the Mexican border was recommended to the war department two weeks ago by Gen. Funston. He suggested to the department that if general field operations in Mexico were undertaken greater efficiency would be displayed by the American army if three major generals were placed in command.

FURTHER SUCCESSES FOR ALLIES IN GREAT DRIVE

French and British Continue to Advance in Desperate Fighting on Both Sides of the Somme—British Gain Ground East of Ancre—French Capture Two Lines of German Trenches and Village of Herbecourt—Strong German Resistance

The marked successes won by the British and French in initiating their great offensive along the western front are being systematically and successfully followed up.

French Capture Trenches

Heavily pounding the German second line south of the Somme, the French have captured two lines of trenches along a three mile front and taken the village of Herbecourt, two miles northeast of Dompierre. The captured village is on the road to Peronne which town apparently is the immediate objective of the French forces in this sector. It is five miles distant from the furthest thrust of the French advance.

British Pressing for Bapaume

To the north the British are pressing for Bapaume, where numerous main highways join. Having taken Ercourt, which formed a salient desperately held by the Germans to check the British advance on either side, Gen. Haig's forces now command the terrain toward Bapaume.

Determined German Resistance

North of the river Ancre the British have met the most determined German resistance and their advances here have not been so marked as between that stream and the Somme. Nevertheless, they are declared to have

LOWELL DEFEATED BRIDGEPORT
IN FIVE INNING GAME, 4 TO 1

Lowell and Bridgeport clashed in a single game at Spalding park this afternoon. Had there been a postponed game between these two teams Owner Roach would have staged a double header today on account of the mills and factories being shut down but the only postponed event with Bridgeport is to be played in that city and Lowell fanned saw but one game. The day was better for watching a game than for playing. The sun was strong and the atmosphere was muggy.

The attendance at Saturday's double header would not indicate that Lowell wishes to be represented in baseball. About 1200 fans paid admission and unless a great burst of speed is shown tomorrow forenoon, the baseball future for this city will look rosy.

Lowell cannot have a team unless the fans support it.

Torphy was back in his old position at shortstop this afternoon and Paddy Green did the twirling with Kilhullen on the receiving end of the battery.

Ero did the pitching for the visitors and Murphy was behind the bat.

The batting order of the teams was as follows:

Lowell	Bridgeport
Stimpson 1f	Blake
Greenough 1b	Kilhullen 2b
Kilhullen 2b	Denninger 3b
Greenough 2b	Whalen
Briggs 3b	Mosher 4b
Kane 4b	Werre 5b
Torphy ss	Murphy
Green p	Ero

First Inning

Neither side scored in the first inning. Blake opened with a fly to Stimpson and Ball followed with another high fly to Stimpney. Baker was third out on a grounder to Helfrich.

Stimpson drew a base on balls and went to second on Greenough's sacrifice. Kilhullen fanned to Murphy and Helfrich went out on a grounder to Ball.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Score—Lowell 0, Bridgeport 0.

Second Inning

Denninger flied to Briggs in deep right and Whalen sent an easy fly which Greenough gathered in. Mosher sent a grounder to Torphy and failed to reach first.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Greenough sent a grounder to Ball and never saw first. Briggs singled through short stop and Kane followed with a strike out. Torphy singled to left garden sending Briggs to second. Torphy was forced at second on Green's grounder to Whalen.

No runs, two hits, no errors.

Score—Lowell 0, Bridgeport 0.

Third Inning

Lowell scored three runs in the third while the visitors succeeded in sending one man across the plate. Werre opened with a free pass. Murphy singled to left, Stimpson allowing the ball to go through him and Werre scored. Murphy was caught at third on Stimpson's throw in. Ero walked, and Blake reached first on Greenough's error of his grounder. Blake was forced at second on Ball's grounder to Torphy. Ero attempted to steal home and was doubled up and eventually tagged out by Helfrich.

One run, one hit, two errors.

In the latter half of the inning, Stimpson drew a base on balls and Greenough reached first on Werre's fumble of his butt. Kilhullen knocked the ball to left field for a double and Stimpson and Greenough scored. Helfrich sacrificed and Kilhullen went to third. Greenough flied to Ball. Briggs singled to center field scoring Kilhullen. Briggs was caught while trying to steal second.

Three runs, two hits, one error.

Score—Lowell 3, Bridgeport 1.

Fourth Inning

Baker singled to left field and Denninger struck out. Whalen was second out on a fly to Kane and Mosher sent a grounder to Helfrich and was out at first.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

In the latter half of the inning Kane struck out. Torphy and Green singled. Stimpson flied to center field and Greenough was third out on a fly to Denninger.

No runs, two hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 3, Bridgeport 1.

Fifth Inning

Werre sent a grounder to Green and died at first. Murphy singled to left field and Ero drew a free pass. Blake sacrificed, but Ball struck out.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Kilhullen flied to Denninger and Helfrich singled to center. Greenough sent a grounder to Whalen and died at first. Briggs singled to center field, scoring Helfrich.

At this point the game was called owing to the heavy downpour of rain. Final score: Lowell 4, Bridgeport 1. The score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	R	H	E
Lowell	0	0	3	1	0	4	3	2
Bridgeport	0	0	1	0	0	1	3	2

PRETTY RECEPTION PARTY

A pretty reception was given Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lapan of West Adams street, in honor of their son Eustis Joseph Lapan and his bride, who have just returned from their honeymoon in Vermont. Mrs. Lapan was assisted by Mrs. Leblanc, mother of the bride. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion with festoons and flowers. A musical program of much merit was given by Mrs. Frank Lapan, while every one present lent himself to the merry-making with good will. A most generous luncheon was provided and the party left with best wishes to the newly wedded couple and many congratulations to the genial hosts.

BY SENATE MILITARY COMMITTEE

THE ORDERED REPORTED

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The army appropriation bill, revised by the senate military committee, and ordered reported today, carries $324,000,000 an increase of $145,000,000 over the bill passed by the house.

The heavy increases over the house bill were declared by senators to be essential in view of the reorganization of the army and National Guard and the necessity for equipment in the Mexican emergency. For aviation and ordnance the senate committee increases aggregate about $40,000,000 over the house appropriations.

BLAMES BIRRELL FOR THE IRISH REBELLION

Royal Commission Reports on the Investigation—Baron Wimborne Exonerated

LONDON, July 3.—The royal commission which investigated the Irish rebellion says in its report submitted today that the responsibility for the outbreak does not rest with Baron Wimborne, the lord lieutenant, since resigned, who is declared to have been in no way answerable for the policy of the government. The chief secretary for Ireland, Augustine Birrell, who resigned shortly after the suppression of the outbreak, was primarily responsible, the report says.

Causes of Outbreak

The royal commission was presided over by Baron Hardinge. Outlining the causes of the outbreak in Ireland the report says:

"In endeavoring to elucidate the causes of the rebellion in Ireland, the fact should be borne in mind that there is always a section of opinion in that country bitterly opposed to British connection and that in times of excitement this section can impose its sentiments on largely increase numbers of people.

"The conclusion of the report points out that it is outside the scope of the commission's instructions to inquire how far the policy of the Irish executive was adopted by the cabinet as a whole, or to attach responsibility to any but civil and military executives in Ireland." The report then gives these conclusions:

"That the main cause of the rebellion appears to be that lawlessness was allowed to grow up unchecked, and that Ireland for several years past had been administered on the principle that it was safer and more expedient to leave the law in abeyance if a collision with any faction of the Irish people could thereby be avoided."

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 3.—James E. O'Brien, a one-armed factory worker, was placed on trial today for the alleged murder of Miss Beatrice Walter, a fellow shop employee on May 31. The shot which killed the young woman, contained by the state to have been fired by the victim, according to testimony of Medical Examiner Griffin, who described the wound to the jury.

The parents of Miss Walter, both of whom testified, discredited the theory that their daughter had committed suicide. O'Brien has stated that the girl killed herself as part of a pact, which he had endeavored to complete, only to lose his nerve when a bullet struck a belt buckle instead of his heart.

DIED FROM THE HEAT

ONE DEATH AND THREE PROSTRATIONS IN BOSTON YESTERDAY—COOLER TODAY

BOSTON, July 3.—The July hot spell continued unabated yesterday and one death and three prostrations from the heat were reported before a cool, refreshing breeze that sprang up at nightfall brought relief to the suffering thousands in the cities.

The one death attributed to the heat was that of Harris Berkman, 86 years old, of 149 Leverett street, who was found dead upon the floor of the kitchen of his home in the afternoon by members of his family.

Although the weather bureau reported that the highest mark registered by the official thermometer during the day was 85, one degree less than the hottest hour of Saturday, old people and children in his work, and those who could not go down to the cool sea breezes sweated.

The forecaster held out a promise of further relief at midnight, however, with the prediction of local showers and cooler for today. Fair weather is promised for the Fourth, with moderate southwest to west winds.

The heat yesterday drove record-breaking crowds to the beaches. Two hundred thousand people rushed to Revere Beach. Fifty thousand more visited Nantasket, where there were 25,000 bathers against nearly 7000 by official count at Revere. Thirty-five thousand had taken a cool dip at the L street baths by 6

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the Reliable Tonic Medicine, Builds Up.

The reason why you feel so tired all the time at this season is that your blood is impure and impoverished. It lacks vitality. It is not the rich red blood that gives life to the whole body, perfects digestion and enables all the organs to perform their functions as they should.

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla from any druggist. It will make you feel better, look better, eat and sleep better. It is the old reliable tried and true all-the-year-round blood purifier and enricher, tonic and appetizer. It revitalizes the blood, and is especially useful in building up the debilitated and run-down.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is helping thousands at this time of year. Let it help you. Get a bottle today and begin taking it at once. Be sure to get Hood's. Nothing else acts like it.

at 6 o'clock in the evening, and it was estimated that 150,000 thronged the Strandway and City Point during the day.

LODGING HOUSE FIRE

FIVE PERSONS RESCUED AND 20 OTHERS DRIVEN INTO STREET IN HAVERHILL BLAZE

HAVERHILL, July 3.—Two persons were overcome by smoke and gas, three women rescued and 20 lodgers driven to the street in night clothing during a fire which destroyed the restaurant of E. W. Manson of 20 Emerson street, early yesterday morning.

The fire started in the kitchen of the restaurant on the first floor, and when discovered, had eaten its way to the rooms of the lodging house above. Patrolman Donahue broke in the door leading to the lodging house, and aroused the inmates. He rescued three women, who became lost in the smoke-filled hall.

When the firemen arrived, Joseph Johnson was still missing. Lieutenant Crittenden of the fire department rushed up stairs through the smoke and flames, and after forcing the door of Johnson's room, found him unconscious on the floor. He gathered up the unconscious man and rushed to the street, then to the Gale hospital.

Captain George F. Walker became unconscious from smoke and gas, and was rescued with difficulty by several of his mates.

43 ARSON ARRESTS

"FIREBUG" CRUSADE IN BOSTON—TRIALS WEDNESDAY—MAN WHO FIRED ARRESTED YESTERDAY

BOSTON, July 3.—The 43d arrest in the "arson trust" cases was made yesterday morning, when Harry Green, 22 years old, of 144 Chelsea street, East Boston, was taken into custody by Inspectors Lynch and Towle and State Officers Sherlock and Thompson.

Green is indicted under charges of setting fire to the dwelling at 439 Winthrop street, Winthrop, Aug. 5, 1915, and again on December 19, 1915, to defraud insurance companies.

Green has been absent since the grand jury took up the cases in March. He has been in Nashua, Manchester and elsewhere. When officers reached those cities he had gone. They heard that he would be home over the Fourth and called at his house, at daylight, yesterday, and were rewarded.

Green protested innocence. Asked why he fled, he said, "I heard that the grand jury was investigating, and I did not want to be drawn into the mesh."

Trials will begin next Wednesday in the 43 arson arrests. The authorities feel confident. They say their evidences will convict, and break up fire-setting for insurance. If the expected number of convictions follow, it will prove the greatest firebug crusade in the history of any city.

PEARY OUT OF RACE

EXPLORER WITHDRAWS HIS NAME AS CANDIDATE FOR SENATOR IN MAINE

PORTLAND, Me., July 3.—Rear-Admiral Robert E. Peary, North Pole discoverer, who a week ago issued a letter stating his willingness to become a candidate at the special election for United States senator to succeed the late Edwin C. Burleigh, has withdrawn his name.

In a letter written Saturday, Admiral Peary says his sole idea in running was to use his influence in the senate, if elected, for preparedness, especially as regards a coast patrol of aeroplanes. Now he feels that as an untrained politician his chances would be slim, and asks his friends not to work for him.

HELD PATRIOTIC SERVICES

TRUE AMERICANISM DISCUSSED AT WORTHEN ST. CHURCH—HOMAGE TO THE FLAG

"True Americanism" was Rev. Walter E. Woodbury's sermon subject at the Worthen Street Baptist church Sunday evening and he took his text from Matthew, 16: 26: "For what shall a man be profited, if he shall gain the whole world and forfeit his life?" or "What shall a man give in exchange for his life?"

Speaking of the Mexican trouble, the speaker said: "If my boy has his choice between living to be 100 years old and living ignobly, or dying for his country at 25 or 35 or 45 and dying a hero, courageous and bold, I hope he will take the second choice. As pastor of this church, having a fatherly interest in every young man of the parish, I should hate to have any of them leave us; but if there comes a serious situation and a real call from our country, I should feel ashamed to be pastor of a church that had not a representative among the boys who can fight for the stars and stripes. I do not want war. I hope that even now war may not come. But there are things that are worth more than the breath of these weak bodies; and there is a forfeit of your life by dodging the shot of the cannon, that is worse than feeding the cannon with your body. For the sake of liberty and justice and brotherhood and God! Whosoever loses his life in any such cause shall find it."

Patriotic Service

The spirit of patriotism was quite manifest at Calvary Baptist church Sunday evening. A small American flag was worn by each one present. Many of the better known patriotic songs were sung and the pastor, Rev. Asa Reed Dills, had for sermon subject, "The Flag." In the course of his address he said: "This flag has been an inspiration to many great deeds, and not all of them deeds on the battlefield. In peace that Stars and Stripes has had many men and women do most heroic things. And this flag is so great because it is the symbol of God's own nation, the nation he in his inscrutable wisdom, selected to be the light of the world. It is the nation selected by him to carry liberty to the uttermost end of the earth, and to afford protection to the weak and oppressed of all races."

His First Service

Rev. Arthur G. Lyon conducted his first Sunday service as pastor of the Calvary Baptist church yesterday. There was a fine musical program by the adult and junior choirs. The pastor spoke on "The Importance of Warship." After the address several little children were baptized and one member was received into the church, after which the sacrament of the Lord's supper was administered.

FOUND DYING NEAR HOME

BOSTON, July 3.—An autopsy will be performed today in connection with the death early yesterday of M. R. Woodrow, of 35 Harvey street, Cambridge.

Woodrow was found unconscious with a fractured skull on the tracks of the Massachusetts Central railroad in the rear of his home about 3 o'clock yesterday morning. The police believed he had been struck by a train and hurried him to the Cambridge hospital, where he died a few hours later without recovering consciousness. Medical Examiner Swan then viewed ed the body and declared there were certain elements in the case which made it impossible for him to determine without an autopsy whether or not death had been caused by a train. He ordered the body removed to the Cambridge morgue for an autopsy this morning.

One-third of these $257 pianos have been sold

TWO WEEKS AGO—we opened this Big Behr Bros. Sale. TODAY—ONE-THIRD of these pianos (in round figures) have been sold. We told you it was a most unusual sale and that the pianos would go quickly.

This has been fully proved by the INSTANTANEOUS SUCCESS of the sale. The success of this sale was assured however from the very hour it opened—its success lying in the ONE FACT that the Behr Bros. pianos sold are worth a LOT MORE MONEY than they are selling for—that they are being offered on the easiest sort of terms and that the purchasers are given innumerable privileges and advantages which absolutely protect them.

The advantage you obtain through buying a Behr Bros. player-piano during this Sale

WE WANT TO make these so plain that there cannot be the least chance for a misunderstanding. The first and most important advantage is, these player-pianos have sold at from five hundred to six hundred dollars each. Our sale price is a uniform price of three hundred and ninety-seven dollars each.

NEXT—player-pianos such as the Behr Bros. are usually sold upon payments of thirty-five to fifty dollars cash and fifteen dollars to twenty dollars a month.

OUR sale terms are, five dollars cash, then only two dollars and twenty-five cents a week.

NEXT—the regular method of selling player-pianos does not include special privileges—other than giving the customer a player-bench and probably a few rolls of music.

Our sale plan not only includes a player-bench and ten rolls of music—your own selection—BUT,

1. An unconditional five-year guarantee—the same as on the piano.

2. Privilege of returning the instrument within thirty days and "GETTING YOUR MONEY BACK."

Privilege of exchanging, at full price, for any other player-piano of equal value, at any time within one year.

Your piano or player-piano will be delivered immediately upon receipt of the five-dollar initial payment. Make your selection at once while the stock is complete and all styles are available.

SOME dealers push out cheaply made goods with the idea of saving something at their customer's expense. Chelmsford costs more to make than any other brand in New England but there is no middleman, no inside price, no special rebate, no jobbers discount, no chain-store rake-off. One case or a thousand cases the price is the same to all DEALERS, wholesale or retail, and that price is the lowest that High Grade Goods can possibly be sold for. By passing these special discounts along to the consumer the extraordinary value of the Big 10 Cent 4 Glass Bottle is made possible.

The dealer whose policy is to save on the quality of the Ginger Ale serves will undoubtedly practice similar economy on other commodities.

The SQUARE DEAL dealer serves Chelmsford without being especially asked for it. It costs him 20 to 40 per cent. more but the customers satisfaction is worth more to him than the extra profit on the cheap stuff.

BOY DROWNED

North Cambridge Lad
Went to His Death as
Many Look on

BOSTON, July 3.—Gerald O'Connor, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connor of 77 Porter road, North Cambridge, and an honor graduate last month of the Cambridge Latin school, was drowned yesterday afternoon in Spy pond, Arlington, a victim of a canoe accident.

The boy sank to his death while two young men in a canoe not ten yards distant sat calmly by taking a picture and while a number of persons in other canoes close to the scene looked on and made no attempt to rescue him. With his chum, Charles Daley, a son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Daley of 64 Fairfield street, North Cambridge, the O'Connor boy was leaning far out over the side of the canoe paddling when the frail craft suddenly upset. Both boys were thrown into the water.

O'Connor, unable to swim, sank almost instantly, while Daley struck out for the shore, about 100 yards distant. He reached there safely and turned to see his chum's head appear above the surface and the young man taking a picture. There were several other canoes near by, according to Daley, but none of the persons in them endeavored in any way to save the drowning boy.

In the meantime someone had called the Arlington police and Sergeant T. A. Duffey and Patrolman Arthur Blyce, reaching the pond soon afterward, put out in a boat with John O'Connor of 41 Massachusetts avenue, North Cambridge. They recovered the body within 15 minutes and brought it ashore.

FITZGERALD AT HUDSON

FORMER MAYOR OF BOSTON SAYS
THERE WILL BE NO WAR WITH MEXICO

HUDSON, July 3.—At the first day's celebration of the town of Hudson's 50th anniversary yesterday, former Congressman L. B. Apley predicted that future honors are in store for former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald of Boston, who was the principal speaker of the day in place of Henry Cabot Lodge, who found it impossible to be present.

Subsequent to the former mayor's address the Rev. Mr. Ufford praised the peace sentiments expressed by Dr. Fitzgerald, and said that he was "pleased that Boston's former mayor had been substituted for the senior senator, and something like that may happen in the future."

Dr. Fitzgerald predicted that there will be no war with Mexico, "because President Wilson will be governed by the wishes of the common people and the ordinary citizen instead of by the demands of special interests, who want war for selfish purposes." He quoted from the president's speech at New York as illustrative of the attitude of the president. He said it requires just as much bravery to keep out of war as to get into war.

LETTERS OF SYMPATHY

MR. AND MRS. MULLIGAN RECEIVE
CONDOLENCES FROM GREEN
SCHOOL ON LOSS OF DAUGHTER

Among the many letters and messages of condolence received by Mr. and Mrs. James Mulligan on the accidental death of their little daughter, Margaret, was one from Principal Paul L. Perkins of the Green school of which Margaret was a pupil. It is as follows:

GREEN GRAMMAR SCHOOL
Lowell, Mass., June 29, 1916.
Mr. and Mrs. James Mulligan, 10 Stackpole st., Lowell, Mass.
Dear Mr. Mulligan and family: The sad accident which befell Margaret has cast a mantle of sorrow on the teachers and pupils of the Green school. Her sunny atmosphere, exuberant spirits and joy of living, which were so well blended with honesty, courtesy and good manners, endeared her to us all. We feel the deepest sympathy with you in this hour of sorrow.

It seems to me that the knowledge that Margaret was a good girl and that you had faithfully trained her, should be a source of comfort to you at this time.

To Anna and Ella I would also extend my sympathy. By added thoughtfulness, if there be room for such, try to comfort your parents, by filling so far as can be filled, with kindness, the great gap in the family circle.

Wishing you joy out of sadness I remain,

Very truly,
Paul L. Perkins.

Several other letters from Margaret's former teachers were received and to one and all Mr. and Mrs. Mulligan are deeply grateful.

THREE HURT IN AUTO WRECK

EXETER, N. H., July 3.—Three persons were injured yesterday, with an automobile in which they were riding on Epping road, three miles from this place, caught fire, skidded and overturned. The car was destroyed.

The machine was owned and driven by Dr. N. D. Michou of Manchester, N. H., and with him were his wife and a nephew, Frank K. George. They were on their way to Portsmouth. Mrs. Michou was the most seriously hurt.

TO MANAGE CAMPAIGN

REPORT COLLECTOR OF THE PORT
EDMUND BILLINGS TO REPRESENT
SENT WILSON IN MASSACHUSETTS

BOSTON, July 3.—The following article regarding the democratic situation in Massachusetts is printed by the New York Herald under a Boston date line:

Word has come from Washington that Edmund Billings, collector of the port of Boston, is to be the representative of the Wilson administration in this state in the coming presidential campaign. This means the administration has decided to ignore the democratic state committee, headed by Michael A. O'Leary, and it has started a row that, according to prominent members of the committee, will cost the president 50,000 votes in Massachusetts. Mr. O'Leary and his committee were ignored by David I. Walsh when he made his losing fight last fall against the present republican governor, Samuel W. McCall, and Mr. O'Leary believes Mr. Walsh, although he is in the Orient, may have had a hand in inducing the administration to select Mr. Billings.

Mr. O'Leary believes, too, that Dr. John W. Coughlin of Fall River, member of the democratic national committee, against whom he led a fight in the convention at St. Louis, also is trying to land him and his committee in the political scrap heap, and he is on the verge of open rebellion. He has told leaders of the party that he will not take orders from Mr. Billings.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

D. E. KEITH'S THEATRE

Willie Collier, who appears in the new Triangle photoplay, "The No Good Guy," at the D. E. Keith theatre, the first three days of the present week has the part of a detective who couldn't detect a thunderstorm unless struck by lightning. Collier is at his very best in this picture, and should make many friends through his delightful comedy. One of the scenes in this piece, which Director Thomas Ince spent a whole month on, is the dynamiting of an eight-story concrete building right in the heart of Los Angeles. This is no fake. The building, having been condemned by the building authorities, was slated for demolition when Ince came along and bought the right to blow it up and photograph it at the same time. This scene is usually run off in about 20 seconds, but it makes the tremendous thrill of the piece. A Lowell girl appears in a minor part in the picture. She is Miss Gertrude Holden, and she is an employee of the J. L. Chaffoux Co. Miss Holden was in Los Angeles at the time Director Ince was making

EXCESSIVE MEAT EATING

Most people who are troubled with flatulency eat more meat than is good for them. Flatulency is wind on the stomach. Excessive meat eating or defective nerve force is responsible in most cases.

Cutting down the amount of meat in your diet and taking a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to strengthen the weak nerves that control the digestive processes is well worth trying if you have wind on the stomach, sour risings in the throat, a feeling of weakness in the stomach and palpitation of the heart. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are recommended for thin blood and weak nerves, whatever the cause.

Send today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the diet book "What to Eat and How to Eat." It gives information regarding the tonic treatment for many forms of stomach trouble. There cannot be perfect digestion without a sufficient supply of red blood and there is nothing better than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to enrich the blood and tone up the stomach.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be mailed, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

the picture, and he called for volunteers for several parts. Miss Holden was one of the most likely of the lot, and so she will be recognized in several of the scenes. The second feature will be "By Stork Delivery," a funny Triangle-Keystone picture, with Mack Swain featured. The sixth chapter of Gloria's Romance, with Miss Billie Burke in the leading part will also be shown. It is called "Hidden Fires."

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

No doubt, all lovers of the latest and best in motion pictures starring some of the most brilliant stars in filmdom will hail with joy this announcement that Pauline Frederick will appear at all the performances tomorrow and Wednesday in "The World's Greatest Scare," a five-act play pointing the high lights of a life of a woman in a western mining town where men live by the sweat of their brow and guard what they earn by the quickness of their trigger fingers. Miss Frederick appears in the role of Myra, the devoted and determined woman who loves the man who is avaricious and dangerous and hardships in search of her lover, not only with the love of her life, but with the love that makes her smile with joy at the thought of dying for the man who is the object of her love. In this play the elemental woman must decide between standing by her miserable cowardly husband who is wrongfully withholding from her the love and admiration, and the young Englishman who has come to this country with the hope of making a fortune and is a true and loyal friend.

The action of this brave and deeply feeling woman forms a thrilling climax in this gripping play, "The World's Greatest Scare," which will be played at the Merrimack Square theatre during these first three days of this week. Those who have seen Miss Frederick in some of her former successes, especially "Diana," "The Eternal City" and others, can easily imagine how well her role in this play suits her emotional genius. Another five-act feature on this same program is "Spellbound," Lois Meredith's latest triumph. This play is a melodrama of gripping power. It is the story of the great occult influence of an Indian idol over a young girl and how it alters her whole life and the lives of those immediately connected with her. It brings great sorrow upon her when her lover is charged with murder and is about to be convicted on a murder charge. The action of this play leads up to a terrific climax and then to a happy ending.

The comedy for the first half of this week is entitled "The Silver" and is one of the funniest screen productions you ever saw. The Pathe-News will entertain by illustrating the latest events of universal importance which are happening today. The remainder of the program for these next three days is equally enjoyable.

THE OWL THEATRE

"The Purple Lady," the first Metro-Rollo photoplay to present that wonder of versatility, Ralph Herz, than whom there is not a more distinguished actor in America, will be the attraction at the Owl theatre today and tomorrow, the holiday. This five-act feature is adapted from the great stage success of the same name by Sidney Rosenfeld and the names of both the author and the star, Mr. Herz are as well known in Europe as in America.

"The Purple Lady" presents a most delightful contrast. It introduces into the most up-to-date tone, the members of the Uplift society, who are attempting to reform the world. Instead of being shocked, one member of this society becomes enamored with a dashing young lounge artist, and together they set out to see the gay sights of New York. A superb necklace of matched pearls which has been stolen comes into the story at the point. Now these first adorn the beautiful dancer, how they then come into the hands of a detective and then the detective's wife is told with breathless interest in this novel photoplay, which finishes with a real surprise. Comedy as well as thrilling moments abound in this gripping detective story. A big surrounding show of excellent Universal features will also be presented in conjunction with "The Purple Lady."

CANOBIE LAKE

Canobie Lake Park theatre offers for the entire week its first vaudeville program of the season, consisting of six acts, the finest the country offers.

Plans have been made to give Canobie patrons the greatest attractions procurable at the theatre and the selection of acts for the coming week is surely in keeping with this policy. As many of the cities from which Canobie derives its patronage have vaudeville during the winter, great care will be taken not to show at the lake theatre anything that has been offered in the city during the past winter, unless it is an exceptionally good one.

One of the big features of the bill is that of Brannon's Midget Horses, an exceptionally good horse act. Seldom does one see so many midget horses as is carried in this act. Every horse has an equal part and each one does his part well. It is an act that the children will appreciate as much as the elders.

Rowe Bros. comedy cyclists mix up a lot of thrills with some fine comedy and make up an attractive act as one would want to see.

MacAvey and Brooks in "The Newsboy and the Mail" have song and talk numbers aplenty and all late stuff too, good from beginning to end.

Dona Cooper and company with the dramatic sketch, "Hari Kari" are an exceptionally clever dramatic cast. Dona Cooper being one of the recognized favorites of the American stage.

"The Peppercorn Trio" are all to the merry with their mixture of song and talk to the accompaniment of the accordion and piano.

Taken collectively the whole show fairly bristles with brightness and is indeed a good offering for the first week's vaudeville.

STORM SWEEPED OVER CITY

Telephone and Car Service Badly Damaged—Lowell Escaped Real Fury of Elements

The thunder storm which broke over Lowell late yesterday afternoon was one of the most violent of the season, although its fury was spent mainly outside Lowell. True, the telephone service and the car service were seriously damaged and on some streets there were washouts; but these results were trifling compared to the wreckage wrought by lightning and wind in the suburbs and especially in Tewksbury. Heavy rain and hail marked the onset of the storm. The rain set in again later in the night and continued until daylight.

Narrow Escape
Mr. and Mrs. Henri Simard and their two months' old baby, residing at 47 Woodcock street, Pawtucketville, had a narrow escape from death or serious injury yesterday afternoon during the storm, when a lightning bolt struck their home. The couple and their child, the latter being in a baby carriage, were entering their home, when a blinding flash came, followed by a loud report. Mr. Simard, who was pushing the baby carriage into the hall, received a shock and was thrown forcibly against the wall of the corridor. Mrs. Simard was stunned, but soon recovered, and fortunately no one of the trio was injured. On entering the house it was found that the lightning struck the chimney and tore off considerable plaster in passing through to the earth. When the report was heard in Woodcock street, little Grace Lenseigne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Lenseigne, was in the street.

Main streets and a telephone alarm was sent to the central fire station, the protective company responding. There was no damage.

An alarm from box 62 at 12:21 yesterday morning summoned a portion of the department to the corner of Lakeview avenue and Coburn street, but when the firemen arrived there was no sign of fire. It seems that there was a light in progress and it is thought that some person pulled the alarm in order to disperse the participants.

Box 217, at Paige and John streets, was rung in at 4:55 o'clock Saturday afternoon for a slight roof fire in John avenue on a small structure owned by the Nesmith estate. Slight damage. The Fred C. Church agency carried the insurance on the property.

A few minutes after 6 o'clock a defective motor in an electric car in Bridge street, near Second, brought out Engine Co. No. 5. Before the blaze was smothered it burned a hole in the flooring of the car. The accident caused much excitement for a while.

An alarm from box 125 at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon summoned a portion of the fire department to the store of D. Stamatelka at 615 Market street where there was a premature explosion of fireworks owned by the Stamatelka family. It is not known how the fireworks happened to go off unless some person had carelessly thrown a lighted match in the window. The damage was confined to the fireworks and a broken window.

DESTRUCTIVE CYCLONE

Flowers were thick in the monster's path, but their beauty did not appeal to the destructive stranger. The singing of the birds ceased for the time being and the pathetic sight witnessed by the Sun man who covered the course of the cyclone this morning, was a poor mother robin who had lost all but one of her babies and she was chirping sadly over it when the reporter reached her. She was not the least afraid and was not at all deterred by the monster's path. The baby robin and placed it on a low branch of a neighboring tree, mother robin flew to its side and seemed content now that her baby was in safer quarters. Nobody found any trace of any dead robins about, but it was as if the birds had been raised with the pot of gold and all green plants above the ground.

In the Kenwood and Belle Grove districts the severity of the storm was felt but there was no serious damage. Dearly Escaped
Louis St. Jean, president of the C.M.A.C. and Joseph Barry, the latter residing in Hancock avenue, barely escaped with their lives during yesterday afternoon's storm, while they were fishing in the Shawheens river at the Lowell junction.

The two men were in a boat in the middle of the river, when the tornado swept over the village, and when the wind started blowing in their direction, they felt something was wrong and they hurried to shore. They had no more than landed when the storm swept over the river, sending whirls of water into the air and tearing down trees. Shortly after the storm the men returned to their tackle and they caught a turtle which tipped the scale at 45 pounds.

IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT

HARRY BASS AND FRIENDS HAD FORTUNATE ESCAPE FROM SERIOUS INJURY

An automobile owned and operated by Harry Bass of 116 Hale street, this city, and containing six passengers, turned turtle near the pumping station on the boulevard about 5:15 yesterday afternoon and the occupants had a narrow escape from being seriously injured or killed. Fortunately all of the people were thrown clear of the car.

In the car with Mr. Bass were his wife and young son, David, and three guests, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Freedman of Maybrook street, Dorchester, and Solomon, the little son of the latter two. The Bass car was headed towards Nashua and had almost reached the pumping station when the front wheels skidded. The driver attempted to apply the brakes but before the machine could be stopped it turned turtle.

As the car went over the occupants were fortunately thrown clear of the car or else one or more fatalities might have resulted.

Anthony F. Dragon and Harry Cote, two passing motorists, took the occupants of the overturned car to the General Hospital where an examination failed to disclose any very serious injuries. Mr. Bass had a slight injury to one of his shoulders; his wife had a fractured rib. Mr. Freedman received only lacerations of one ankle and Mrs. Freedman's car was bruised and cut. Both children escaped with minor injuries. One of them sustaining a scalp wound and the faces of both receiving numerous abrasions. The disabled machine was later righted and towed into a local garage.

FIREMEN KEPT ON JUMP BUT NO SERIOUS DAMAGE RESULTED—FIREWORKS EXPLODED

The fire department responded to several alarms yesterday. At 1:05 o'clock yesterday morning an alarm was sounded from box 217 for a mattress fire at 28 Lee street. The fire was caused by a man smoking in bed but was extinguished before much damage was done.

At 1:05 yesterday morning smoke was seen issuing from Pevey's restaurant at the corner of Central and Wilson streets and a telephone alarm was sent to the central fire station, the protective company responding. There was no damage.

An alarm from box 62 at 12:21 yesterday morning summoned a portion of the department to the corner of Lakeview avenue and Coburn street, but when the firemen arrived there was no sign of fire. It seems that there was a light in progress and it is thought that some person pulled the alarm in order to disperse the participants.

AT THE ARMORY AT MOBILIZATION CAMP

Three Lowell Lieutenants Called to Framingham Yesterday

In an effort to drill the recruits of Massachusetts companies now in camp at Framingham as quickly and thoroughly as possible, the second lieutenants of the companies of the Sixth regiment have been summoned to assist their superior officers in the work. Following this order, Lieuts. Duffy, Waller, and Cashin of Companies C, G and K, respectively, were called to Framingham Saturday and will probably remain there until the drilling is completed.

The officers now in command of the local companies are: Co. C, Sergt. Flynn; Co. G, Sergt. Gramsch; Co. K, Sergt. Dyer.

Yesterday was quiet in armory circles all over the state, according to information received from headquarters. Recruiting was reported as normal and approximately 100 men volunteered throughout the state. Recruiting officers yesterday toured the beaches in automobiles and besought young men to enter the service of their country.

FIREWORKS LAW

Supt. Welch Will Enforce It Strictly Tomorrow

Supt. Redmond Welch of the police department stated to a representative of The Sun this morning that the police will enforce the law regulating the carrying of firearms and the use of fireworks to the letter.

The carrying of firearms without a license has become too prevalent of late and last night it unfortunately resulted in a fatality. A person carrying a pistol without a license is $50.

Attention is also called to the following requirements for the Fourth: "It shall be unlawful for any person to sell or keep for sale any blank cartridges, top pistols, toy guns or toy cannon that can be used to fire blank cartridges. It is unlawful also to fire, explode or cause to explode any cartridge or bomb, to explode any firecracker exceeding two inches in length or three-eighths of an inch in diameter.

"No fireworks or firecrackers shall be transported on or in any vehicle carrying passengers on any street or public way. No fireworks or firecrackers shall be set off within 300 feet of any hospital. No serpent, rocket, bomb or set piece of fireworks shall be set off in a public street or public way. Fireworks or firecrackers shall not be set off or fired except between the hours of 7 o'clock in the evening and 12 o'clock midnight on the day of the Fourth.

"No fireworks or firecrackers, excepting the top torpedo or the single toy paper can shall be set off to children under 13 years of age. Fireworks or firecrackers shall not be hawked, sold, exposed for sale on any public street, square or way.

"It shall be unlawful within any city or town in the commonwealth for any person to liberate or fly a fire balloon on any description. A violation of this particular act shall be fine of not more than $100 or more than one month in jail or both."

Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent In One Week's Time In Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of strain or other eye troubles? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." I am sure it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can read fine print without glasses. It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitude more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any drug store and procure a bottle of Non-Opto tablets. Drop one Non-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note: Another excellent physician to whom the above remedy has been recommended is a very remarkable man. He is a specialist in eye troubles and has been successful in many cases. COL. CHAMBERLAIN, U.S.A., INSPECTS CAMP WHITNEY AS RESULT OF CRITICISM

FRAMINGHAM, July 3.—The mobilization camp here, at which 200 recruits to the four regiments of infantry from this state now at the border are being conditioned to join their commands, was inspected today by Col. John F. Chamberlain, U.S.A., who is attached to the inspector-general's department. The visit followed criticism of alleged failure to supply some of the recruits with uniforms, and of alleged insufficient rations. Col. Chamberlain refused to make any statement, but officers who accompanied him on his rounds said his only words were of praise for the equipment and conduct of the camp.

CONDITIONS OF THE BEST
BOSTON, July 3.—Gov. McCall, who, with Adj. Gen. Cole inspected the mobilization camp at Framingham Saturday and Sunday, said that conditions were of the best. He added that while there had been cause for complaint as to shortage of food and lack of uniforms in a very few cases, these now had been remedied.

TEST OF KITCHENER'S ARMY

British Regent Great War Lord Could Not Have Lived to See Result of His Work.

LONDON, July 3.—The official British dispatches issued yesterday report the continued success of the combined Anglo-French offensive. The Germans put into operation strong counter-attacks during the night and are apparently making desperate resistance, but the British troops have occupied Fricourt and the French have captured Curlew and have seemingly nowhere had to yield the ground already gained.

The German lines in some places have been penetrated to a depth of two miles, and the prisoners taken by the French and British in the two days number many thousands.

The German official report generally confirms the success of the first day of British operations, admitting withdrawal of the Germans from their first line trenches and the abandonment of heavy material therein.

The British public still displays the same quiet enthusiasm, determination and confidence, fully understanding that no great drive like that carried out by the Russian commander, Gen. Brusiloff, is possible against the depth, strength and rail power of the formidably organized German front and that great sacrifices and possible setbacks must be prepared for.

Many regrets are heard that Kitchener had not lived to see the results of his work. This is the first great battle in which the military legions he created are being put to the test.

Kitchener's armies have virtually replaced the first small expeditionary force sent out under Field Marshal French, which had to sustain the earlier battles of the war. It is also the first time that a great offensive has been carried out under well-organized co-ordinated allied strategy, not on the western front alone, but over the whole of operations.

Reuters' correspondent at British headquarters in France suggests that the comparative feebleness of the German artillery response to the British bombardment arose from the same cause as the shortage of food in the German trenches, namely, the deadly character of the almost ceaseless British barrage fire which for the past week has hampered the German transport service.

He warns the British people that although the situation looks promising, too much should not be expected, and added:

"We are fighting a determined, resourceful foe and though he has now been smitten harder than ever before by the British army it would be unwise to underestimate his powers of resistance in the face of a highly menacing position."

OUTLOOK EXCELLENT

Federal Reserve Board Reports Boston District Manufacturers Month's Decline

WASHINGTON, July 3.—General business conditions continue good and the outlook for next month is excellent according to official reports. The federal reserve board, made public last night in the board's monthly statement.

Crops are reported better than normal in most sections, industries are said to be working to capacity, and further increases are noted in the reserve district, there is a call for more labor with wages mounting.

In the Boston district, buying has been exceptionally heavy and manufacturers are months behind their orders. The boot and shoe industry is running prospective, cotton mills are running prospective and the dry goods business is better than a year ago.

New York reports reassuring signs in that district of a needed change to a more conservative outlook in commerce, industry and banking. Plants are anticipating the end of the war and making plans to manufacture commodities for use in times of peace, the report continues, "adding to the growing feeling that the end of the war will not have the disastrous effects on industries which some interests feared."

FURTHER SUCCESSES

necessary as the advance must be slow, owing to the nature of the fortifications erected by the Germans in the 20 months they have been in possession of the territory attacked. Places such as Montauban, Fricourt, La Boisselle, Serre and Mametz, which the British took and like the villages further south captured by the French, bristled with machine guns. There are many other similar positions which must be overwhelmed if the French and British infantrymen are to continue to push forward.

The artillery, it is true, demolishes most of the defense works, but the Germans remain in dugouts during bombardments and come out with machine guns to meet the attackers. Consequently much hand-to-hand fighting occurs. Furthermore, there are counter attacks to be repulsed.

Meanwhile the troops on the northern end of the western front are not inactive. On the Belgian coast British monitors are throwing shells across the sand dunes to keep the Germans in their trenches. The Belgians, who recently took over another stretch of the front, keep up a bombardment which equals that of the British guns. What with the heavy gunfire and the raids of infantry detachments the Germans are kept busy from one end of the line to the other and threatened attacks at every point warn them against sending reinforcements to the Somme region.

The number of prisoners—fewer than 10,000—which has thus far passed through the clearing stations was small considering the length of the line attacked and the extent to which it has been pushed in, but this is accounted for by the fact that during a bombardment the bulk of the British guns, the bulk of their forces in their third lines, bringing them up to meet the infantry.

In this case, however, the communication trenches were so badly damaged that this was difficult to accomplish and only the original complement remained in the front line trenches when the Anglo-French forces reached them. Another batch of wounded, consisting largely of Scotch troops and members of the Anzac contingents, arrived in London this morning. Most of them were only slightly wounded.

SUCCESS FOR ALLIES ON SECOND DAY OF GREAT OFFENSIVE

PARIS, July 3.—"General results excellent" is the verdict of the Parisian press on the achievements of the second day of the great Franco-British offensive. All the newspapers assert that what has been accomplished is rather substantial than sensational. They declare that the mistake made in the Champagne battle will not be repeated, that men cannot fight material until the ground has been prepared, so far as humanly possible, by artillery. No section of the Franco-British forces was advanced beyond the line assigned to it, they say, however tempting might have appeared the chance of smashing further lines.

The story of an artillery corporal who was wounded while in an observation post at Maricourt is cited to show that this method is sound. The corporal said:

"I was able to see for myself that our losses were quite small and I not only hope but am certain that our means of action will enable us to forge ahead without much wastage of men. This is due to the prodigious accumulation of munitions of all sorts made by the allies along the whole northern front."

"I witnessed the first bombardment of the German trenches and works. It was a wonderful sight. The effects were terrifying. It is not possible that any work of defense, however strong or ingenious can resist such an avalanche of fire and steel. How many men must lie buried in the ruins!"

"The German reply is no less terrible and the most stubborn resistance must be counted upon, for the enemy may be short of men but certainly does not lack munitions. However, I can affirm that he offered feeble resistance to our first shelling. His guns barely fired one shot for ten from the allies. That was characteristic of the section where I was. Did the enemy say to prevent us from finding out the positions of his batteries or what did this impassive attitude conceal? It made no difference to us. Everything had been foreseen and our plan worked like a charm."

A British captain who was wounded said that what most impressed him was the admirable co-ordination of the French and British troops in his section where, he said, they bore themselves magnificently. "I could give a hundred noble examples of courage, self-sacrifice and heroism," he declared.

GERMAN RESERVES CALLED TO CHECK FRANCE—BRITISH OFFENSIVE

PARIS, July 3.—The reserves which the Germans rushed up to the Somme region to check the Franco-British offensive began to make themselves felt yesterday afternoon and last night, according to the latest reports received here.

The fighting reached a pitch of exceptional desperation, but, nevertheless, the British efforts to check the advance failed. The Franco-British allies, these reports say, retain the initiative unimpaired and as the result of the day's fighting, have materially advanced their line and strengthened their hold on what they had previously won.

The capture of Curlew, especially in view of the rapid progress made south of the Somme, represents a great step forward for the village bars the road leading to the only points where the French troops have now before them on miles of hummocks, each of which is crowned by a village, ending in a narrow plateau.

The British on their part have made steady progress toward Bapaume, which is an important center, on account of the intersection there of the main highways which apparently are their objective.

THE AUSTRO-HUNGARIANS ADVANCE AGAINST RUSSIANS—HEAVY LOSSES

LONDON, July 3.—As the result of one week of most costly onslaughts on the Russian lines between the Stokhod and the Sty rivers, the Austro-German forces have advanced their battle front at the most five miles eastward towards the Sty and that only in some sectors, says a Reuter despatch from Petrograd.

The military authorities, the correspondent adds, are confident that the Russians are firmly holding the enemy on this front, pending the development of Gen. Letichitzky's sweep through Bukovina, notwithstanding that strong German reinforcements are entering the field.

Meanwhile the Russians have progressed fifteen miles southwestward of Kooma and the Austrians there are hard pressed to cover their retreat to the Carpathian mountains.

ELEVEN GREEK ARMY OFFICERS ARRESTED AND CONFINED IN FRENCH PRISON

PARIS, July 3.—Eleven Greek army officers who were concerned in the attack on the offices of the Rhoistis, a newspaper published at Salonika, were arrested and confined in the French military prison. The officers are accused of having assaulted the editor of the Rhoistis, who was badly wounded and to have torn up a portrait of former Premier Venizelos, whom the newspaper supports because of political articles in the newspaper which were considered insulting to the army.

BRITISH STEAMER SUNK

LONDON, July 3.—The British steamship Moeris 3169 tons gross, has been sunk. No information has been received regarding the fate of the crew.

FURTHER SUCCESSES FOR FRENCH SOUTH OF THE SOMME

PARIS, July 3, 1.55 p. m.—The French offensive south of the Somme, in conjunction with the British drive, continued last night with complete success, the war office announced today. The French have occupied two lines of trenches of the second German position on a front of five kilometers, (three miles) the two lines of trenches of the second German position, from Maricourt wood into Maricourt, which is in our possession, as far as the edge of Assevillers.

Between the two points we took possession, as a result of a brilliant engagement, of the village of Herbecourt, which had been defensively organized by the enemy.

Further south we have made progress in the direction of Assevillers, the northern and western boundaries of which are in our hands.

It is a well known fact that Turkish tobacco improves with age, and for years we have had, and now have in storage in the United States by far the largest supply of pure Turkish tobacco ever carried by any manufacturer.

So large is our supply of pure Turkish tobacco that we are now making the above standard brands out of the 1910 and 1911 crops, ageing our leaf from the subsequent crops for future use.

We maintain in the Orient our own organization, and are not dependent upon the haphazard supply from brokers and speculators.

Notwithstanding the difficulties of ocean traffic, we have continued shipments from the Orient, adding to our already enormous leaf stock more than a million of pounds in the past few months—the most recent cargo, amounting to about four hundred thousand pounds of the best Xanthi and Cavalla leaf, having arrived at the Port of New York on Thursday, June 22, 1916.

redoubt, but the French soon after regained possession of it.

The trenches of the second German position captured by the French extend from Maricourt wood into Maricourt, which is in possession of the French, as far as the edge of Assevillers. The village of Herbecourt lies between these two points. Further south the French made progress towards Assevillers and Estrees.

North of the Somme the Germans made no attack on the positions previously taken by the French.

The French captured heavy artillery and took more prisoners. The statement says 39 German battalions participated in the fighting and that 21 of these battalions sustained important losses.

During the artillery preparation preceding the inauguration of the offensive 13 German captive balloons were burned.

The text of the statement follows: "North of the River Somme, the enemy last night made no attack upon the positions conquered by us and which we are now organizing."

"South of the Somme the fight has been continued with complete success for our arms. Yesterday evening and last night, we entirely occupied along a front of more than five kilometers (three miles) the two lines of trenches of the second German position, from Maricourt wood into Maricourt, which is in our possession, as far as the edge of Assevillers."

Between the two points we took possession, as a result of a brilliant engagement, of the village of Herbecourt, which had been defensively organized by the enemy.

Further south we have made progress in the direction of Assevillers, the northern and western boundaries of which are in our hands.

North of the village of Estrees and between Estrees and Assevillers, our troops have made perceptible progress.

"More prisoners and more pieces of heavy artillery, the counting of which has not yet been completed, were captured by us during the recent actions. According to information at hand it has been established that more than 39 German battalions participated in the attack along the French front on July 1. According to the statements of prisoners, 31 of these battalions suffered very heavy losses and are at present completely disorganized. Most of the prisoners taken by us July 1 and July 2, are very young. As a result of the questioning of these men, it has been learned that the preparatory fire of our artillery was very efficacious, not only in annihilating defensive organizations, but in rendering impossible all lateral communication behind the lines and in preventing the bringing up of provisions. At the same time our artillery fire made it impossible for the enemy to transmit orders to the troops engaged in the operations."

"During the preparatory offensive fire of our artillery, French aviators set fire to 13 captive German balloons. Two others were set on fire the first of July. During the attack our airplane scouts were masters of the front. During this time only nine aeroplanes of the enemy showed themselves, and not one crossed our lines. Of these nine machines one was destroyed."

"South of the River Somme, in the region of Lassigny a surprise attack against a trench of the enemy was successful at Verlet wood, near Canny-Sur-Matz."

Another French patrol made some prisoners in the region of Moulin-Sous-Touvent. In the Champagne district one of our patrols took some prisoners not far from Prunay, and brought back a rapid fire gun."

"On the left bank of the River Meuse the night passed in relative quiet, with the exception of the bombardment of our positions to the west of Hill 94. On the right bank of the river this morning at half past three o'clock after a violent bombardment, the Germans delivered a strong attack upon the Damloup work. They took possession of it, but our counter-attack delivered shortly after resulted in driving them completely out and recapturing the work, which is now in our possession."

FURTHER ADVANCE FOR BRITISH EAST OF THE ANCRE RIVER

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, July 3, via London, 4.51 p. m.—A further advance has been made by the British forces to the east of the Ancre river. To the north of the town of Fricourt the British have pushed forward and have gained ground at a higher elevation.

Fighting continues intense on virtually the whole British front. The British have heavily bombarded Thiepval.

At La Boisselle severe fighting is proceeding. North of Fricourt the British have pushed their positions forward to higher ground.

The situation here is promising for the British. A heavy shelling of Montauban by the Germans continues. The British appear to be well established in the town.

The number of German prisoners taken in the south so far exceeds 4000.

The weather continues favorable.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

Whether considered in relation to the great war in the old world or the situation in Mexico, Independence day this year is a day for thought and reflection. For many years it has been a day of noise and empty celebration, devoid of special significance, and though all Americans honored it in one way or another, few realized its real meaning. Now, with the shadow of war hanging over us and with our national consciousness aroused anew, it is really a national holiday—even though officially we have no celebration. Meant to mark the American Declaration of Independence in congress, July 4, 1776, it is a day on which we should take stock and ask if we are still true to the spirit of the matchless Declaration of Independence and the spirit of the men who signed it.

With regard to preparedness, what is the message of July 4? This great nation should be so prepared to defend its rights and institutions that the liberties gained by the founders of the nation may be preserved for our children and through them handed on to generations yet unborn. As President Wilson said in his speech before the Press club in New York, there is no need to prove the wisdom of preparedness, though men may differ as to the details. America should be prepared in the fullest sense to stand for right and honor, but we should guard our heritage lest in the zeal of too great preparedness we be led into the dangers of militarism or aggression.

With regard to those who have come to be known as "hyphenated Americans," the message of the day is the need for undivided loyalty. The men who signed the Declaration of Independence were men of many races, but when they thought of this country they abandoned allegiance to any other. So today the anniversary of the great declaration calls for a national revival that shall weld all our racial stocks into one American people, made a strong and loyal unit by devotion to one country and one cause. This great holiday teaches the people of America to remember the ideals of those who founded the nation and to keep to the front through the noise and the superficial celebration the present need for devotion to the greatest and best country in the world.

TO PREVENT KILLINGS

It is a pity that all who have taken any interest in the reports of the many killings in lower Belvidere could not make a personal investigation of the region and see for themselves its shortcomings and its possibilities. Few residential streets of the city are more congested than Howe, Davidson, Wall, Fayette and other streets in this section, and yet there is scarcely a spot where children can play without danger. There is always heavy automobile traffic through East Merrimack street, and there is considerable teaming through the streets that branch off. In many spots there the canal bank is absolutely unprotected, though owners have signified their intention of remedying this danger.

Children take to play as naturally as they learn to breathe and if they cannot find a safe place they will play elsewhere. No matter how carefully parents may watch and supervise, youngsters will ramble into the busy street and make of it a common playground. The toll paid in Belvidere is only too well known, but still the children may be seen playing without thought of danger in the way of autos and electric cars.

Right in the heart of this district, in the vicinity of Howe and Wall streets, there is a large space, 11,000 square feet or so, which is owned by the Bay State Street Railway company and which is assessed for $55,000. It would be a good idea for the city to get hold of this and to convert it into a playground for the use of the locality. Some swings there and chutes and sand piles would transform an ugly spot into a practical playground which would draw the children from the busy streets and help materially to reduce auto deaths to a minimum. The sum of $5000 may seem a great deal at this time, but it would be a very low price for the two children who were killed by automobiles on East Merrimack street last week. It would also tend to wean the children from the waterfront and thus allay the fears of the scores of parents who are now in dread of dire news from morning until night.

REAL DEVELOPMENT

It is only a little while back to the time when residents of a locality decried the coming of the "development" association that used to open up new tracts of land for building and trading purposes. The fear was in the main well founded because these companies of promoters had little care for anything except to make a good sum out of the venture. They figured that they took the risks and they cared nothing for civic standards of the feeling of the people of the neighborhood so long as they could erect the cheapest possible house and sell it for the highest possible figure. This accounts for the fact that some new sections in all cities have such poor streets and correspondingly poor living facilities.

Now a change is apparent, and it is being recognized that to develop a section in an attractive way may be good business. Some real estate dealers in Lowell have been building a number of attractive houses and laying out a portion of the surrounding land in lawns and shrubberies. These houses sell more readily than the plain type and the people who get hold of them are usually the kind who want to keep the property in good condition. Accordingly this better kind of development really develops and does not run down a district like the fictitious development of an older day.

The city should be ever mindful of danger along these lines and should not permit real estate juggling that is likely to lower civic standards. As in the case of the shingle roof, improvement may not all come at once, but if a certain standard is demanded it will in time predominate. Visits to certain new groups of dwelling houses in Lowell will serve to show all who are interested what should be done to ensure development of property that the city will not have to regret later.

ADVANCE BY ALLIES

The great Anglo-French drive against the Germans on the western front has commenced with a vigor that promises far reaching results, and already the papers are assuming that this is the offensive predicted for so long. It is yet too soon to essay the role of prophet with any degree of success, but if the allies are prepared to furnish the ammunition in an unprecedented way this may prove the most decisive blow of the war. It would seem that the great requirements for a successful drive are now well known to the French and English and it does not seem likely that they would attempt a strong offensive without being ready to back it up. In men and in munitions they are now superior, but being the aggressors they must be ready to pay any price demanded by the resistance. Even though the allies continue to be successful in this attack—and they have already captured 60 square miles, it is said, it would take a considerable time to drive the Germans out of France and Belgium. Success on a large scale, however, would enable them to dictate peace terms and would make Germany abandon its attitude of aggressive propaganda. This is a chance for England to restore her prestige which has been damaged by blunders on all sides, and a successful drive against the Germans kept up for a period long enough to make a decided impression would restore English spirits which have been none too sanguine since the failure at Gallipoli. The Germans will probably strive all the harder to capture Verdun as a counter stroke unless the men who fight there are needed to resist the allies' onslaught. Should the present drive continue for a week without interruption, Germany will be in a dangerous position, owing to her growing shortage of men and munitions.

THE "THIRD" COURSE

Referring to the Mexican situation and suggesting possible means of its settlement the Springfield Union says:

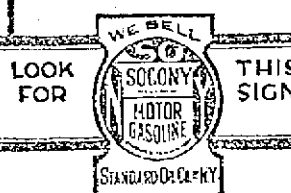

Under present conditions two courses only are open to us. One is to continue the policy of "watchful waiting," and employ a sufficient military force to protect adequately our territory. The other is to take action of the thoroughgoing kind that will result in the establishment of such a government as we inaugurated for Cuba. A continuance of watchful waiting seems at this moment the easier way, but it may prove to be the more difficult and costly in the end. There is no telling how long it would have to be kept up. The Carranza government that President Wilson has so assiduously fostered can hardly be called a government. It is likely at any time to be overthrown, and its overthrow attended with a fresh period of disorder.

There is a third course and it seems better than either because it promises to blend the good qualities of each while avoiding the dangers. This course is that already favored by The Sun, viz: that the government of the United States should call for an international commission at Mexico City to settle the Mexican question under the Monroe Doctrine with the co-operation of all the Americans. The troops might still be kept on the border as a moral force and a protection for Americans and American interests, and the work of the commission might be continued until there is peace and a promise of future order in Mexico. We have no wish for any Mexican settlement that cannot be accepted by the Argentine Republic, Bolivia, Chile, Peru and other lands to the south, and we have no desire for war while there is any other way out of the perplexity. This method would be more potent than mere "watchful waiting" and it might prove more effective than armed intervention. Has the Union considered it?

LOWELL AGAIN LEADS

The first announcement that the Ninth regiment had arrived at El Paso meant a great deal to Massachusetts but in one sense it meant even more to other states. All the states of the Union have responded to the call of the commander-in-chief at Washington, and there was an eager if friendly rivalry between them as to which troops should be first on the spot. In this part of the country the papers made a good deal of our alleged unpreparedness, and yet while the accusations were partly true Massachusetts was the first state to have its soldier sons at the Mexican border.

In things patriotic Lowell has always led, and if the present spirit of the people continues, it always will. The towns that surround us gave their share to the Revolutionary war, and all our school children know that Lowell boys were the first to fall in the Civil war. Once again the gallant Lowell boys are true to their traditions, and the name of this city will be upheld by the hundreds who went to El Paso in the first response to the call of President Wilson.

Gets 'em Both Ways

"My father is an architect," said the new boy on the block proudly. "What does an architect do?" asked the boy next door. "Oh, he tells people how to build their houses, and they have to pay him for telling them."

"Why, then they have to pay him more money for changing the plans," replied the architect's son.

permanently with perfect ease and safety. Wet your hair all over with Q-Ban, the only guaranteed hair color restorer, every day and expose it to the sunlight and air—then your hair will gradually and evenly change to its original uniform dark shade. Absolutely no trace of gray hair will be left and nobody can ever tell how it happened. Just think of that! Furthermore, your hair will be much more glossy, lustrous, soft and fluffy than ever before—and fascinating to touch.

The secret of this wonderful change in the color of your hair is mainly brought about by a process of oxidation (oxygen in the air) which results from drying your hair in the sunlight and air after Q-Ban has been applied. Sunlight and air are Nature's own beautifiers and a very important part of the Q-Ban process. Only in this way—with Q-Ban and the aid of sunlight and air—can the color be permanently and safely restored to your hair. Make no mistake about this—all preparations claiming to instantly restore the color to your hair are fakes or treacherous dyes.

Q-Ban is made from a scientific formula of chlorine, sulfur, alcohol, ethyle and perfume discovered after years of laboratory study and approved by the greatest chemical experts in the world, including Prof. Von Huber. Everybody uses Q-Ban nowadays, because it is safe and sane and the only guaranteed liquid hair color restorer that is absolutely free from dangerous, dirty, acid dyes and poisons and we want you to know the facts.

Give Q-Ban a trial today—you can't do anything until you try it—get it at Elmer-Jaynes Drug Store, 121 Merrimack St., Lowell, Mass.—or a bottle—or write Hough-Ellis Drug Company, Memphis, Tenn. Money refunded if not more than delighted. The famous Q-Ban Hair Tonic, Hair Shampoo and Toilet Soaps are also made by us. Write for authoritative booklet on hair culture—free.

proposed. He was a wise young man, and didn't think it necessary.

"Rachel," he said, as they were taking a stroll one evening, "I am going to ask you an important question."

"O, George," she exclaimed, "this is so sudden. Why?"

"What I want to ask is this," he interrupted. "What date have you and your mother decided upon for our wedding?"

No Hot Air Strifling

Everything in the dear old village seemed the same to Jones after his absence of four years. The old church, the village pump, the ducks on the green, the old men smoking while their wives gossip—it was so restful after the rush and bustle of the city. Suddenly he missed something. "Where's Hodge's windmill?" he asked in surprise. "I can see only one mill and there used to be two."

The native gazed thoughtfully round as if to verify the statement. Then he said slowly:

"They pulled one down; there wasn't enough wind for two of 'em."

And Watch Ever

A little chap who thinks that a watch is one thing that makes life worth living was told that for the present a watch could not be given to him.

But he continued to tease for one, until the whole family were wearied. Then his father, after explaining that he should certainly have a watch when he was older, forbade him to mention the subject again.

The next Sunday the children, as was the custom in that family, which is rather religious, repeated bible verses at the breakfast table. When it was the boy's turn, he astonished them all by saying:

"What I say unto you, I say unto all: Watch!"—Sunday School Times.

Smiles Saved Her

Miss Nell Morgan of Ashbury Park, N. J., smiled when she appeared before Magistrate Handy in court in answer to a summons served upon her for speeding. It was such an engaging smile that the magistrate was forced to smile in return. "She was driving her touring car at the rate of 23 miles an hour south on Lafayette street last Sunday afternoon," said Magistrate Handy.

"I'm sure," responded Miss Morgan, "that I didn't mean to go so fast. But my speedometer is out of order, and there was no one on the road. Was there?" and she turned to the only child that bewitching smile. Cody smiled and, thawing fast replied:

"No, your honor; and it's her first offense, too."

"I'm sorry," said the magistrate to Miss Morgan, "that I'll have to find you guilty on the evidence. But as it's your first offense I'll suspend sentence."

For Stomach and Pocket

Much cheap fun was poked at Gladstone years ago because of his statement that before swallowing his food he invariably gave every particle 36 bites. But it was evident, even to the humorist, that the "grand old man" owned much of his splendid vitality to his careful mastication, and his words caused many persons to think:

By the manner in which people who ought to know better "bolt" their food one might fairly infer that they believe their stomachs to be constructed on the same principle as that of a lobster, containing teeth to facilitate the process of digestion.

Mothers who wish their children to live healthy lives should always insist on all food being thoroughly masticated, as by neglect of this simple precaution the seeds of life-long ill health are always sown in the childhood. They ought to know that no food should be swallowed till, by repeated grinding of the teeth, it has been reduced to a fine pulp and thoroughly mixed with the saliva which is secreted for the purpose by the glands filling the mouth.

There is also another highly important point to be borne in mind now that the cost of food is so high. Experience has shown that when food is properly masticated about one-third less is required than when it is in the state of a lump. It is in fact, a matter of common sense that what happens is that by effective chewing much more nutriment is extracted and therefore less food need be eaten.

It is obvious, therefore, that the man who "bolts" his food is hit at once in the stomach and in his pocket, getting an uncomfortable sense of fullness in the one and a corresponding feeling of emptiness in the other.—Providence Tribune.

Springtime Without You

The cherry trees have bloomed again since last you went away. But I am weary and have missed your presence just as they miss the spring.

I walk among the things and tell them you're return. Though as I softly slip your name the words with sorrow burn.

The daffodils came back to town, with cups all full of gold. Yet did not bring the thrill of joy that they brought in days of old. And well I know, along the hedge, where they are wont to grow, they miss the step and welcome smile of one who loves them so.

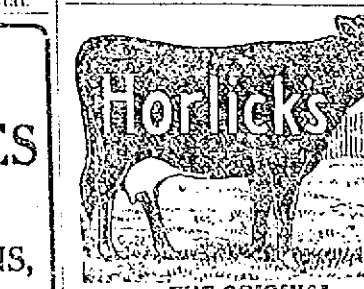

Our meadow bird is singing now along the wild rose lane. And hush, though it is singing, too, but in a minor strain: I did not know how much your voice has been woven in the lay of every blessed bird of ours until you went away.

I wish for words as many as the leaves upon the trees of old. And words as sweet as meadow blooms that lure the crafty bee. That I could tell you o'er the miles that separate us far. How all the glories of spring are asking where you are.

others, indicating that they may become producers before the end of the year. There is every reason to believe, therefore, that the Alaska copper output for 1916 will be greater than that for any previous year. The gold trade mines of Alaska will also make a larger production this year than last, but it is not now expected that the placer-mining industry of Alaska will show any marked increase. The shipment of antimony from Alaska is continuing, and some tungsten ores have already been shipped from the Fairbanks district.

OUR POPULATION

Foreign Element Constitutes One Third of Entire Population

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 3.—While so much is being said and written upon the subject of Americanism, the National Geographic society comes forward with some figures concerning our foreign population and their sons and daughters that are particularly timely and authoritative. They bring out some striking facts concerning the makeup of our national body politic. The society's bulletin on the subject is as follows:

"It is a fact not generally recognized that the foreign population of the United States together with sons and daughters of parents one or both of whom are or were of foreign birth constitutes a third of the entire population of the country.

"In a number of states the people of foreign birth or foreign or mixed ancestry exceed in numbers those of native birth and parentage. This condition obtains in Massachusetts, where the foreign element by birth or parentage is twice as great as the element of unmixed native lineage. That state had, in 1910, 1,163,000 people both of whose parents were of native birth and parentage, as compared with 2,214,000 who were either born abroad themselves, or had one or both parents born abroad.

"The same condition prevails in Rhode Island. That state has a population of 153,821 of native ancestry against 372,671 of foreign birth or lineage.

"In Connecticut we find a population of native ancestry aggregating 355,000, and of foreign birth or ancestry aggregating 103,000.

"In New York there is a population of native ancestry reaching a total of 2,330,000, and of foreign birth or ancestry amounting to 5,715,000. The balance in favor of the population of foreign birth or foreign ancestry, in whole or in part, in New Jersey is 125,000, the population of native ancestry amounting to 1,040,000 as against 1,165,000 in the case of the foreign element.

"Illinois also falls in the list of states where the population of full native stock is smaller than that of foreign birth or foreign or partly foreign ancestry. Its population of native lineage amounts to 2,600,000, and of partly foreign by birth and ancestry of 2,925,000, a difference of 325,000.

"Michigan also falls in this class, with 1,560,000 wholly or partly of foreign birth and ancestry as compared with 1,224,000 of pure native lineage. "Minnesota has nearly three times as many people born abroad, or with one or both parents of foreign birth, as she has of sons and daughters of native stock. Her population of foreigners and their children totals 1,483,000 as compared with 575,000 for the native element.

"Montana has 195,000 people of foreign birth and foreign or mixed ancestry, as against 162,000 of native ancestry. Wyoming gets into the same column by about the same proportion. The state of Washington has 350,000 more of the foreign than of the native element, while California practically breaks even.

"Taking the statistics of the male population twenty-one years of age and upward for the entire country, it is found that only 48.9 per cent. of them are of straight, white native ancestry. The negro element adds 2.1 per cent to this, and the remainder, 48.9 per cent, is represented by the men of foreign birth or the sons of foreign or mixed parentage.

"Taking the different states, we find some striking statistics. In the proportion of white or foreign or mixed ancestry to native, among the men of 21 years and upward, North Dakota takes first rank among the states with 79.9 per cent. belonging to the former class. Minnesota ranks next with 78 per cent., and Wisconsin third with 77.3 per cent. Approximately two-thirds of the men in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York and Utah are sons or grandsons of foreign lands. In New Jersey, Illinois, Michigan, South Dakota and Montana the proportion ranges from 61 per cent. to 57 per cent. In New York, New Jersey, Washington and California it is slightly more than half.

"In Utah it falls to 48.8 per cent., in Wyoming to 45.9 per cent., in Missouri to 29.7 per cent. in Kansas to 30.8 per cent. and in Oregon to 40.4 per cent."

Charge Cohasset and Hingham Cops Split

Proceeds of Auto Trap

BOSTON, July 3.—When you pass through Hingham with the rear lights of your automobile in eclipse, you may have wondered at the remarkable efficiency of a traffic policeman on the Cohasset side of the town's boundary line, who stands in the middle of the road, halts you, and summons you into court because your lamps were not trimmed and burning. But did you suspect this same efficiency extended to the ultimate destination of the witness fees paid to that vigilant Cohasset guardian for appearing against you in court?

Chief Thomas Bates of Cohasset has found out about it, and has declared an armistice in the war against autoists in that town. Therefore the autoists are happy, but there is consternation among the Hingham police.

Chief Thomas Bates of Cohasset has found out about it, and has declared an armistice in the war against autoists in that town. Therefore the autoists are happy, but there is consternation among the Hingham police.

The Hingham-Cohasset auto trap is simplicity itself. There used to be a more elaborate device, but the officers, who stand in the middle of the road, halts you, and summons you into court because your lamps were not trimmed and burning. But did you suspect this same efficiency extended to the ultimate destination of the witness fees paid to that vigilant Cohasset guardian for appearing against you in court?

HELD FLAG RAISING

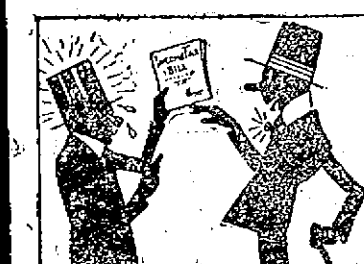

FLUSHING CLUB IN WESTFORD HAD ENJOYABLE EXERCISES YESTERDAY

The Sabbath stillness of the Westford woods was considerably shaken up yesterday, but the disturbance was enjoyed by the passing motorists as from the depths of the woods the familiar harmony of "America, I Love You," "My Country 'tis of Thee," and other patriotic airs greeted their ears, coming they knew not whence. The music emanated from the cottage of the Flushing club, on the shores of Flushing pond, where the club held a flag-raising and presentation. The members who are all Lowell men, and their guests to the number of about 50 assembled at the camp about noon, and half an hour later three rousing cheers announced the arrival of Mayor O'Donnell, who was invited to make a few remarks as the flag went up. His Honor, introduced in graceful remarks by Mr. Charles A. Connors, responded with brief but eloquent words appropriate to the occasion and the spirit of the times. When the flag had been unfolded to the winds Mayor O'Donnell called forth Mr. John H. Barry, the popular steward of the club, who during the exercises was busily engaged in the preparation of a sumptuous repast. When Mr. Barry emerged from the kitchen his Honor in a happy presentation speech handed over to the surprised chief, a handsome gold watch with a chain inscribed on the case, a gold chain and gold cigar-cutter charm, the gift of his assembled friends. Mr. Barry was too surprised to say much but he managed to thank his friends and his actions spoke louder than his words. Immediately after the presentation the guests sat down to a turkey dinner, with a choice variety of vegetables fresh from the neighboring farms. After the dinner an impromptu entertainment was given in which all of the patriotic songs of the country were lustily sung to the accompaniment of a piano and orchestra of six pieces. A feature of the orchestral numbers were violin solos by Mr. Frank Deyman. An added attraction also was the appearance with his "company" of Prof. Leonard Galloway, the well known ventriloquist who entertained the guests with his delightful act. Then there were songs by Joseph Tuttle, Dick Galloway, John H. Brady, and a minstrel front with "Chuck" Connors as interlocutor and the celebrated Kane Brothers, "Will I" and "Chickie" with bones and tambourine. The guests remained until sundown when the flag was reverently lowered to the music of "The Star Spangled Banner" played by the orchestra and sung by all present. The members of the Flushing club are Messrs. Florence J. Murphy, president; William Sullivan, Thomas H. Kennedy, James T. Dunfee, John E. Brannan, Charles A. Connors, William H. Kane, John H. Barry and Fred Welch.

POLICE COURT CASES

ONLY MINOR CASES BEFORE JUDGE ENRIGHT THIS MORNING

MANY DRUNKS RELEASED

There were many drunken offenders before Judge Enright in police court this morning, despite the fact that Probation Officer Slattery had released twenty prior to the opening of court.

He Made Restitution

Antonio Koutalis was charged with the larceny of $8.75 in money and a pocketbook the property of Joaquin Ferreira. Both men are employed in one of the local mills and on the 24th of June, Ferreira while changing his clothing placed his pocketbook on a window sill. He was called away by the boss and when he returned in about five minutes he found the pocketbook missing. He reported the matter to Major E. J. Noyes and the latter after an investigation arrested Koutalis. Koutalis agreed to make restitution and after doing so and paying the costs of court his case was placed on file.

Stole a Pair of Shoes

Demetrius Bourakis went into the basement of the A. G. Follard store Saturday night and stole a pair of shoes. He was caught by the store detective and taken to police court where he was released on his own recognizance.

George E. Toye, Esq., who appeared for the defense, this morning said that the latter was under the influence of liquor at the time and went into the store with the intention of purchasing a pair of shoes but for some reason or other he stole them. He said that if the man had not been drinking the larceny would not have been committed. Bourakis was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $7.

Arrested on Old Complaint

Fred Lamarche was before the court on a complaint charging him with failing to provide proper support for his wife. He entered a plea of not guilty and when it was found that his wife was not in the city he was released on his own recognizance.

Drunk Offenders

John Draddy, Festus Braxton and Martin Curtin, charged with drunkenness, were each ordered to pay a fine of $10. Jennie Courtemarche was sentenced to 15 days in jail and Mary McKeown was sent to the same place for three months.

John E. Flynn was given a direct sentence to the state farm. Luther G. Flynn was given a suspended sentence to the state farm. Edward Fortin was sentenced to two months in jail.

High School Uniform

William J. Desmond was charged with the larceny of one shirt, a pair of pantaloons and a pair of stockings, all of the value of $15.50, the property of James A. Shanley, faculty manager of the Lowell high school baseball team. It is alleged that Desmond was a member of the high school baseball team for some reason refused to return his uniform at the end of the season as required. William J. Carroll who appeared for Desmond waived the reading of the complaint and entered a plea of not guilty. Richard Brabrook Walsh appeared for the government.

CASEMENT APPEAL

LONDON, July 3.—The hearing of the appeal of Sir Roger Casement, who on June 29 was found guilty of high treason and sentenced to death for complicity in the Irish rebellion, has been fixed for July 17.

FIRE AT NO. BILLERICA

Quick work by the Talbot mill fire department prevented a serious fire at North Billerica about 5 o'clock yesterday morning when a blaze was discovered on the roof of a six frame block located at 52-50 Wilson street. The fire, which probably started from a spark from a chimney, was discovered before it had reached any serious proportions and an alarm was sounded. Members of the Talbot Mills department responded promptly and had the blaze extinguished when the town department arrived. The damage was not heavy.

POSITIONS TO BE FILLED

Gov. McCall May Nominate on Wednesday—The Chief Offices and the Candidates

Special to The Sun.

STATE HOUSE, Boston, July 3.—Governor McCall is planning to submit to the council at its meeting next Wednesday nominations to practically all of the positions created by the last legislature, and he hopes also to be able to take action in respect to those officials whose terms have expired.

Among the positions awaiting action by His Excellency are the following: Public service commissioner, salary $5,000. The term of Everett E. Stone of Springfield expired Saturday. It is expected that he will be re-appointed.

Supervisor of administration, salary $5,000, to take the place of the present board of economy and efficiency, with a combined salary of $14,000. For this position Thomas W. White, a member of the present board, is likely to be selected. Under him there will be two and possibly three deputies.

Gas and electric light commissioner, salary $4,500. The term of Thomas P. Rife, formerly chairman of the democratic state committee and assistant attorney general under Thomas J. Boynton, expired Saturday, and he will not be re-nominated.

Civil service commissioner, salary $2,000. The term of Harvey N. Shepard of Cambridge expires today, and he will not be re-appointed, for the reason that the board at present consists of two democrats and one republican. There are no prominent candidates for this position.

Member of the board of conciliation and arbitration, salary $2,500. A peculiar situation exists in this board, which there is reason to believe will be corrected by the legislature. Last winter its members submitted to the legislature a simple recommendation, viz, that their salaries be increased to $4,500. When it began to look as though the increase would not be allowed, Commissioners Charles F. Wood and Frank M. Burn announced their intention of leaving the state service. There were some who believed at the time that the announcement was simply an attempt to coerce the legislature into allowing the increase, but it such was the case it certainly was ill-advised, for it was received with positive joy in certain quarters and the salary increase bill was quickly put to death.

Then there is a $7,500 place as director of insane institutions, to take the place of the present board of insanity. Dr. Michael J. O'Meara of Worcester and Dr. L. Vernon Briggs of Boston, both members of the present board, the former being its chairman, are candidates for either the directorship or positions on the advisory council.

The biggest fight, however, is in connection with membership of the new waterways commission and of the industrial accident board, and events of the past few days have operated to make the fight among the members of the waterways commission is to consist of three members, the chairman being paid $4,500 and each of the others $4,000, and they are to replace both the directors of the port of Boston and the present harbor and land commission.

Naturally, it is expected that one democrat will be given a place on the new board, and the chairman of each of the existing boards is a candidate for the place. Edward F. McSweney of the port directors and William S. McNary of the harbor and land commission are waging the hottest kind of a campaign, not because either simply to test their relative strength as democratic leaders. Already the contest has become so bitter that Governor McCall is more than likely to select a dark horse, and if he finally decides to take that course he will probably select Dudley M. Holman of Taunton, the member of the accident board whose term recently expired.

Mr. Holman's friends have already been told that he will not be re-appointed. The governor has made it plain that he regrets very much that Mr. Holman should be the member of the board whose term expires at this time, because he knows that Holman has done excellent work on the board. But he feels that there should be at least one regular republican on this board of five members, and he has decided to put one there.

Whether Mr. Holman would take the place on the waterways commission is a matter of some doubt, because his heart has been in the work of the accident board ever since it was established.

For his position on the accident board there is a merry scramble going on, with Rep. Henry Achin of Lowell, former Rep. Robert N. Turner, now living in Arlington, and Attorney James J. Tierney of Salem doing the best they can to get their names on the list.

It is the opinion of those in a position to know that Rep. Achin's services to the republican party will be recognized in a suitable manner. HOYT.

day returned the squadron of the 11th cavalry sent under Major John M. Jenkins to search for the survivors of Carrizal. These arrivals talked only a little of their experiences, but their description of their efforts to save their horses from Pershing revealed the story of a march unequalled in the present conditions.

While scouting near Carrizal for some trail that would give a hint of the location of the retreating American soldiers Major Jenkins made a night stop at an abandoned windmill. All about stretched the desert, and the windmill was the only landmark in the landscape. A few clumps of greasy weed with tiny yellow leaves, dotted the endless expanse of mesa on three sides. To the south stood a low range of mountains. No road, no trail, no sign of habitation marked the sandy plain.

"After doing a rough at the windmill's foot," Major Jenkins said, "there was water there, but it was so full of dust that the horse, his throat raw with thirst, reared when he sniffed. That night the cavalrymen cleaned up the windmill, and the windmill was the only landmark in the landscape. A few clumps of greasy weed with tiny yellow leaves, dotted the endless expanse of mesa on three sides. To the south stood a low range of mountains. No road, no trail, no sign of habitation marked the sandy plain.

"Four troopers were sent to the top of the windmill with orders to turn it by hand. The rickety structure trembled with age. When a puff of wind struck the wheel spinning, the brown, bearded cavalrymen below cheered. The strain produced was little larger than a lead pencil, but after an hour each horse and man had been given a small drink.

"The command encountered for the first time in Mexico, called a rock sort of dry clay, the dust of which settled in the eyes, ears and throats and nostrils of men and animals. The horses discovered that they could quench their thirst temporarily by nipping galleta grass, containing succulent shoots.

"Lack of food for the horses caused the squadron to turn back, finally abandoning their search. It was still many miles from the headquarters camp when the last of the oats was fed to the mounts. For a time it seemed as if the horses might perish, but the men pushed them through sheer will and their sense of duty."

When the squadron arrived here today the trucks accompanying the column were in the lead and had passed through sand and wastes heretofore believed impassable.

10,000 TROOPS WILL LEAVE

CAMPS FOR BORDER THIS WEEK

NEW YORK, July 3.—While Major Gen. Leonard Wood says that the movement of militia from the department of the east toward the Mexican border has passed its climax, he cautions that 10,000 more troops will leave their home mobilization camps during the present week. Nine states out of 22 under Gen. Wood's command have sent National Guard units southward. Massachusetts and New Jersey have dispatched the larger proportion of their available men. New Jersey has sent the size of its state guard holds honors in this respect, for only 207 militiamen from that state were left in mobilization camps today, while 4055 are on their way to the border.

Among the commands under order to entrain today was squadron A of New York City, which probably will be on duty at the Mexican border within the next two or three days. No official information of the number either at border points or on the way is available but there is reason to believe this figure is not too high.

Soon after arrival each regiment of infantry or cavalry will be furnished with automatic machine guns, 250 of a new type of which were ordered recently for immediate delivery. As an experiment the guns will be carried in automobiles instead of on the backs of pack mules and five chauffeurs will be required on each regiment to operate the cars.

Officials here today were only mildly interested in reports of the latest bandit chase into Mexican territory by two troops of the Eighth cavalry under Capt. Leroy Eltinge. The party spent yesterday in a vain search south of the Rio Grande, for the bandits who drove off three horses from a ranch, 54 miles south of El Paso and last night the troopers were back on the American side without having seen either the horse thieves or Carrizal troops.

Still no indication had come concerning Carrizal's reply to the American note demanding that he state his intentions toward Gen. Pershing's forces. President Wilson had not let it be known how long he would consent to wait before taking the Mexican question before congress.

numbers more wealthy men than any militia organization of equal size in service.

Figures issued at General Wood's headquarters show that 5437 militiamen have been sent forward from Massachusetts, 3039 from Maine, 858 from Vermont, 151 from Rhode Island, 2321 from Connecticut, none from New Hampshire, and 5643 from New York.

In Massachusetts 1750 state troops are now at concentration camps; 129 in Maine, 209 in Vermont, 452 in Rhode Island, 1071 in Connecticut, 1339 in New Hampshire and 11,000 in New York.

30,000 NATIONAL GUARDSMEN

AT OR NEAR MEXICAN BORDER

WASHINGTON, July 3.—At least 30,000 National Guardsmen probably will be on duty at the Mexican border within the next two or three days. No official information of the number either at border points or on the way is available but there is reason to believe this figure is not too high.

Soon after arrival each regiment of infantry or cavalry will be furnished with automatic machine guns, 250 of a new type of which were ordered recently for immediate delivery. PUZZLED OVER PROBLEM

OF ENFORCING CENSORSHIP

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Army officers were puzzled today deciding how stringently they shall attempt to enforce censorship on troop movements and location at the border. They had before them copies of newspapers from all over the country, publishing stories not blame newspapers for announcing the destination of local units. They point out that the Mexican government has not sufficient agents in the United States to gather these reports published in such scattered localities and to construct from them a comprehensive schedule showing strength of troops at various points along the border.

While the war department has objected to the publication of specific information, officers admit privately that under present circumstances they do not blame newspapers for announcing the destination of local units. They point out that the Mexican government has not sufficient agents in the United States to gather these reports published in such scattered localities and to construct from them a comprehensive schedule showing strength of troops at various points along the border.

Officially the destination of all National Guard units is supposed to be a military secret. Officials thought it improbable that any step would be taken at this time toward more complete censorship. The war department is not to publish and the public not to expect news of future shifting of forces from one point to another on the border.

GEN. GAVIRA TO RESUME

HIS COMMAND AT JUAREZ

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, July 3.—(via wireless to Columbus, N. M.)—Military authorities here received reports today with much interest that Gen. Gabriel Gavira, formerly commander of the troops of the Mexican de facto government in northern Chihuahua, had resumed his command in Juarez. It was pointed out that Gen. Gavira before his recent departure to Mexico City, where he was summoned for a conference with Gen. Alvaro Obregon, Mexican minister of war, had shown a disposition to co-operate with the American forces, especially after the evacuation of the city by the Carrizal troops.

It seemed generally understood that if Gen. Gavira returns to Juarez it would be an indication of the intention of the de facto government to co-operate largely with the expeditionary forces.

OFFICERS TRAIN NATIONAL

GUARDSMEN FOR HARD WORK

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 3.—Commanding officers of National Guardsmen today began whipping their men into shape for hard service. Although eager to convert the guardsmen into seasoned troops as quickly as possible, army officers, realizing the danger of overworking the men in the blazing heat, were not too anxious to crowd them. Almost all the men who have been brought to the frontier are in excellent physical shape but a great majority of them are "soft" and unaccustomed to the climate.

Troop trains early today were met by detachments of Boy Scouts who at the train windows offered sleepless guardsmen sandwiches and coffee. The scouts were working under the direction of local organizations of women and the Red Cross who have perfected their organization for receiving all guardsmen as they arrive.

Not all the citizen soldiers have been inoculated against typhoid. It has been learned, since their arrival, that the medical department has been instructed to see to it that all are given the immunizing typhoid serum without delay.

PEOPLE IN MATAMOROS,

MEXICO, ARE STARVING

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., July 3.—Acting on an urgent appeal from officials of Matamoros, the American Consul Jesse H. Johnson and Mayor Albert Browne of Brownsville will today request Gen. Parker, commanding the Brownsville district to permit a quantity of corn to be shipped to the starving population of the Mexican town. It is guaranteed by those making the appeal that none of the corn will reach the military forces in Mexico.

SURVIVOR OF CARRIZAL

HELD IN CUSTODY IN JUAREZ

EL PASO, Tex., July 3.—Corporal Cooke, the 25th survivor of Carrizal to be taken captive by the Mexican troops, is being held in custody today in Juarez. General Francisco Gonzales, Mexican commandant, announced, however, that he expects to receive authorization from Gen. Pershing today to turn over Cooke who was captured recently near Villa Ahumada after more than a week's wandering through the desert, to the American authorities here.

Cooke's story of being fed and cared for by friendly Mexicans aroused hope here that others of the 14 members of

HUSBAND SAVED HIS WIFE

Stopped Most Terrible Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Denison, Texas.—"After my little girl was born two years ago I began suffering with female trouble and could hardly do my work. I was very nervous, but just kept dragging on until last summer when I got my work. I would have a chill every day and hot flashes, and dizzy spells, and my head would almost burst. I got where I was almost a walking skeleton and life was a burden to me until one day my husband's sister told my husband if he did not do something for me I would not last long and told him to get my medicine. So he got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking the first three doses I began to improve. I continued its use, and I have never had any female trouble since. I feel that I owe my life to you and your remedies. They did for me what doctors could not do and I will always praise it wherever I go."—Mrs. G. A. LOWERY, 419 W. Monterey Street, Denison, Texas.

em, of having another case of a player released doing good elsewhere whenever the management let go of Zeke Lohman in the early part of last season. Zeke opened up in rather common-place manner last season and with opportunities to get into more promising places, the management released him at his own request. It happened at a time when Zeke couldn't get another job within a few days and hence remained in this city while he communicated with other cities. Then something told the management that it might be a bad thing to have in let-ting go of Zeke, and the first thing the fans knew Zeke was back again. Perhaps it wasn't a lucky move to put him back again! He surely has done his share this season, and a trifle more. He's been there in the tightest places and has shown that he's a nine furlong pitcher. GEORGE W. LEES KILLED

Struck Down at Mountain Rock
by Limb of Tree Struck by Lightning

George W. Lees of 103 Cumberland road was instantly killed at Mountain Rock during the thunder storm yesterday afternoon when the heavy limb of a tree under which Lees was standing was struck by lightning and fell on him.

The party had left Cumberland road at noon for an afternoon's outing at Lakeview and Mountain Rock. They had hired a boat and were crossing the lake when the storm came up suddenly and the boat was directed toward Mountain Rock.

There are conflicting reports as to the precise manner in which the accident occurred, some saying that Lees pulled his boat under a tree that extended over the water and that he was struck before he had time to get out. Others state that he had gotten out and was pulling the boat to the edge of the water to get his wife out when the big limb, torn from the tree by lightning, came down on his head, knocking him into the water.

The other occupants were greatly stunned by the lightning and the falling of the heavy limb from the tree with the fatal consequences to Mr. Lees. It was supposed at first that he was struck by lightning, but while he may have been, it is certain that his other injuries were sufficient to cause instant death.

When Lees was pulled out of the water it was thought he was merely unconscious and he was hurried in an automobile to the corner of Lakeview avenue and Ensell street, where the ambulance was met. Lees, however, was dead and he was removed to the funeral parlors of William H. Saunders in Hill street.

Death came as the result of a dislocated neck, crushed chest and fractured skull.

Lees was about 30 years of age and was well known in Odd Fellows circles. He was a member of Wamesit lodge, Manchester Unity, and was to have been installed as noble grand of the organization this evening.

Deceased is survived by his wife, Mary J., one daughter, Gladys Alice, and his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lees.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

HOUSE OF E. A. ROBINSON OF MATHEN STREET DAMAGED, BUT OCCUPANTS UNINJURED

Lightning struck E. A. Robinson's house in Mathen street about 11 o'clock last night. One of the chimneys was demolished and the bolt went down through into the cellar cutting off the telephone wires and putting the electric lights out of commission. Mrs. Robinson was alone with her aged mother at the time and both were badly scared. Rev. Mr. Harris, pastor of the Palgo Street church, lives in the

WILLIAM R. WILLCOX MANAGES HUGHES CAMPAIGN FOR PRESIDENT

WILLIAM R. WILLCOX, NEW REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CHAIRMAN

William R. Willcox, former chairman of the public service commission for the First New York state district (which embraces New York City), has been named as chairman of the republican national committee to direct the campaign. Mr. Willcox was the personal choice of Mr. Hughes, and there was a report that the stamp of approval had been put upon him by Colonel Roosevelt. Mr. Hughes, it is understood, wanted Mr. Willcox because he had known him for years and had implicit faith in his judgment. Willcox was appointed by Hughes as chairman of the public service commission when Hughes was governor, and they had been close friends. Willcox has the advantage of having served two and a half years by appointment of Colonel Roosevelt as postmaster of New York. Of late he has practiced law and has not been closely affiliated with politics, and, like Mr. Hughes, did not participate actively in the campaign of 1912.

HERE ARE THE LATEST SNAPSHOTS OF THE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES

LATEST PHOTOGRAPHS OF PRESIDENT and MRS. WILSON, HUGHES and TAFT

Here are two of the latest snapshots of the republican and the democratic candidates for the presidency. The picture of Mr. Hughes and Mr. Taft was made at Bridgehampton, N. Y., where this year's republican nominee entertained at luncheon the man who ran for re-election in 1912. The snapshot of Mrs. Wilson and the president was made in Philadelphia when the president went there to address the advertising men.

SLEEPYTIME TALES

THE VISIT TO ROLLO

Once upon a time Tiny Tim woke up one morning and saw that the sun was shining very brightly, so he hopped out of bed, put on his clothes and ran to wake Tiny Thistle to tell her that he was going to take her to visit Rollo as soon as they had eaten their breakfast. Tiny Thistle was delighted and she put on her dress, took hold of Tiny Tim's hand and soon they were trotting toward Rollo's house.

Rollo had never seen Tiny Tim's new friend, but he had heard a great deal about her, so when he saw them coming he began to bark and run around his yard so fast that Cook came out of the house to see what was the matter. Of course, she couldn't see either Tiny Tim or the little elf who was running beside him, and she thought Rollo was hungry, so she brought him a bone and went into the house.

"Good morning!" said Tiny Tim, and Rollo answered with a loud bark. Just at first Tiny Thistle was a little afraid of such a big dog, but when Rollo lay down and Tiny Tim lifted her on to his back, she put her little hands into his curly hair and patted his head as though she had known him all of her life.

Rollo was so pleased at this that he was her friend for life and told her he would give her a nice ride on his back if she would hold on tight. Round and round the yard they trotted until Tiny Thistle was tired and asked her friend to help her off. Rollo showed her his house where he slept, the tin dish of water on which Gnomes had skated last winter and told her how they had rowed their tiny nut boats. Tiny Tim found one of the boxes under some grass and put it into the water and then lifted Tiny Thistle in while Rollo pushed it around the pan very gently with one of his paws. Tiny Thistle laughed and thought that was the nicest ride she had had.

It was almost dark before they started for home after telling Rollo they would come again soon to see him. When they reached home supper was all ready for them and after that Tiny Thistle went to bed and slept very sound, for you know that was a great deal for anyone so tiny as she to do in one day. Just as she was going to sleep Tiny Tim whispered and said: "Tomorrow I am going to take you to see my friends, the green frogs." Tiny Thistle whispered back, "I like your friend Rollo, but I want to see the frogs, too."

denburg's troops, but gained no advantage. The official account of operations in the east follows:

"Russian torpedo boats and the ship of the line Slava bombarded the Courland coast east of Haggasem, without result. They were attacked effectively by our coastal batteries and by aeroplane squadrons, and the Slava was struck."

"At many points along the front of Field Marshal von Hindenburg, the enemy increased his fire, and repeatedly undertook advances. These led to fighting in our lines only near Niki, north of Smorgon. The enemy was ejected immediately with heavy losses."

"We captured 243 Russians."

"On the front of Prince Leopold the Russians attacked northeast and east of Gorodische and on both sides of the Baranovichi railway after artillery preparation for four hours. A counter attack is proceeding against detachments which advanced northeast of Gorodische. Otherwise the enemy was forced to retreat, leaving behind many killed or wounded."

"On the front of Gen. von Linsingen, strong Russian counter attacks were delivered east and southeast of Lutsk but failed to stop our advance. Large cavalry attacks broke down miserably. The number of prisoners was increased by about 1500."

"On the front of Gen. Count von Bothmer we engaged in a battle south-east of Flumacz which was favorable to us."

EVERY DAY ETIQUETTE

"Is it proper for me to ask a young man to call?" inquired Helen.

"The little courtesy of suggesting to an interested acquaintance that you will be glad to see him in your own home can not be improper. It offers dignified hospitality and suggests friendly good will, so it is kind," answered her aunt.

"When stopping at a hotel in New York is it allowable to wear a hat and suit down to breakfast?" asked Florence.

"A suit and hat or other street costume is usually worn at breakfast in a hotel. At some more quiet hotels, you might wear a one-piece dress or skirt and waist without a hat if you are not going out," answered her New York friend.

"What is the correct length of time one should wear mourning after the death of one's brother?" inquired Mary.

"One usually wears mourning for one year for a brother, deep mourning at first and lighter mourning afterward. This is just a matter that one may adjust to one's own satisfaction, since deep mourning is not worn now as much as formerly," said her friend.

"Will you please tell me the correct way to leave a card printed for a business man?" asked Henry.

"A gentleman uses the prefix 'Mr.' on his cards, and if the cards are to be used socially the second name is written in full as 'Mr. John Henry Brown,'" answered his business associate.

"If one is writing a letter to a business house, what is the best form to use at the close of the letter?" asked Grace.

"Any of the following are correct: 'Yours very truly,' 'Yours truly,' 'Very truly yours,' 'Yours respectfully,'" answered her uncle.

MRS. HETTY GREEN DEAD GOOD TIME IN MEXICO

WAS SAID TO BE THE WEALTHIEST WOMAN IN THE WORLD—DIED AT HOME OF HER SON

NEW YORK, July 3.—Mrs. Hetty Green, known as the world's wealthiest woman, who was 80 years old, died here today. She had suffered three strokes of paralysis during the past two months, and for several weeks had been virtually helpless.

Her death occurred at 3:05 o'clock at the home of her son, Col. Edward H. Green, at No. 5 West 90th street, adjoining the plain brick, four-story house at No. 7, on the corner of Central Park West, where Mrs. Green had lived lately in seclusion, except for her son and several Japanese servants and trained nurses.

For several weeks past Mrs. Green had been unable to walk, and had spent nearly all of her time in a wheel

Finding life in the wilds of northern Mexico a bit monotonous while waiting for the government's decision to send them forward or back, the soldier boys in Pershing's column pass much of the time, when the weather permits, in athletic exercises. MEXICANS MAY HAVE TO FACE OUR DEADLY MACHINE GUNFIRE

U. S. A. MEN USING MACHINE GUNS

As in the European war up to the present time, the machine gun is expected to play a most important role should our army come to close grips with the Mexicans. Indeed, it has proved its usefulness already in Mexico in spite of the regrettable jamming of some of the guns when the Villistas raided Columbus, N. M. According to United States army officers who have been studying the European war with an idea of increasing the efficiency of our own army, the most deadly weapon in use now in Europe is the machine gun. Some of them fire as many as 50 shots a minute. Pictures show army men in Mexico handling guns.

TEWKSBURY VISITED BY DESTRUCTIVE CYCLONE

Buildings Levelled and Trees are Uprooted—Cyclone Was Accompanied by Thunder and Lightning—Many Had Narrow Escapes But None Was Injured—Large Water Tower Carried Away

A cyclone of no mean proportions visited Tewksbury Sunday afternoon at about 4:30 o'clock and its visit will long be remembered by the good people of that village who are thankful, despite the great damage wrought to property, that no one was killed. The roaring, fierce-looking wind, circling thing, dark as night of itself but illuminated by constant flashes of lightning and quickly followed by roars of thunder, came across Round pond and laid everything low in its path. Crossing Round pond it raised water spouts that shot into the air for a distance of several feet, and arriving on the village side of the pond it uprooted giant trees, carried

NEW YORK, June 30.—"Frank Baker," said Bill Donovan, manager of the New York Yankees recently, "never hit harder in his life than he is hitting now. His average is not as high as it used to be with the Athletics by many points, but that is due to persistent hard luck. Baker hits the ball out over the infield on a line nearly every time he steps to the plate. The fielders have made more sensational catches of balls hit of his bat than I have ever seen in the same period of time as long as I have been in baseball. That is why Frank's average is low. Watch him! Things will look right for him, and when they do it will take some ball club to stop us. The same thing is true of Lee Magee. Lee hit a ball down the foul line yesterday that should have won the game for us. An outfielder made a wretched catch of it. They have spoiled many a hit for Lee as they have for me. If he keeps hitting them they'll begin to fall safe."

EDWARD N. JACKSON, AN EXPERT PHOTOGRAPHER, GOES TO MEXICO

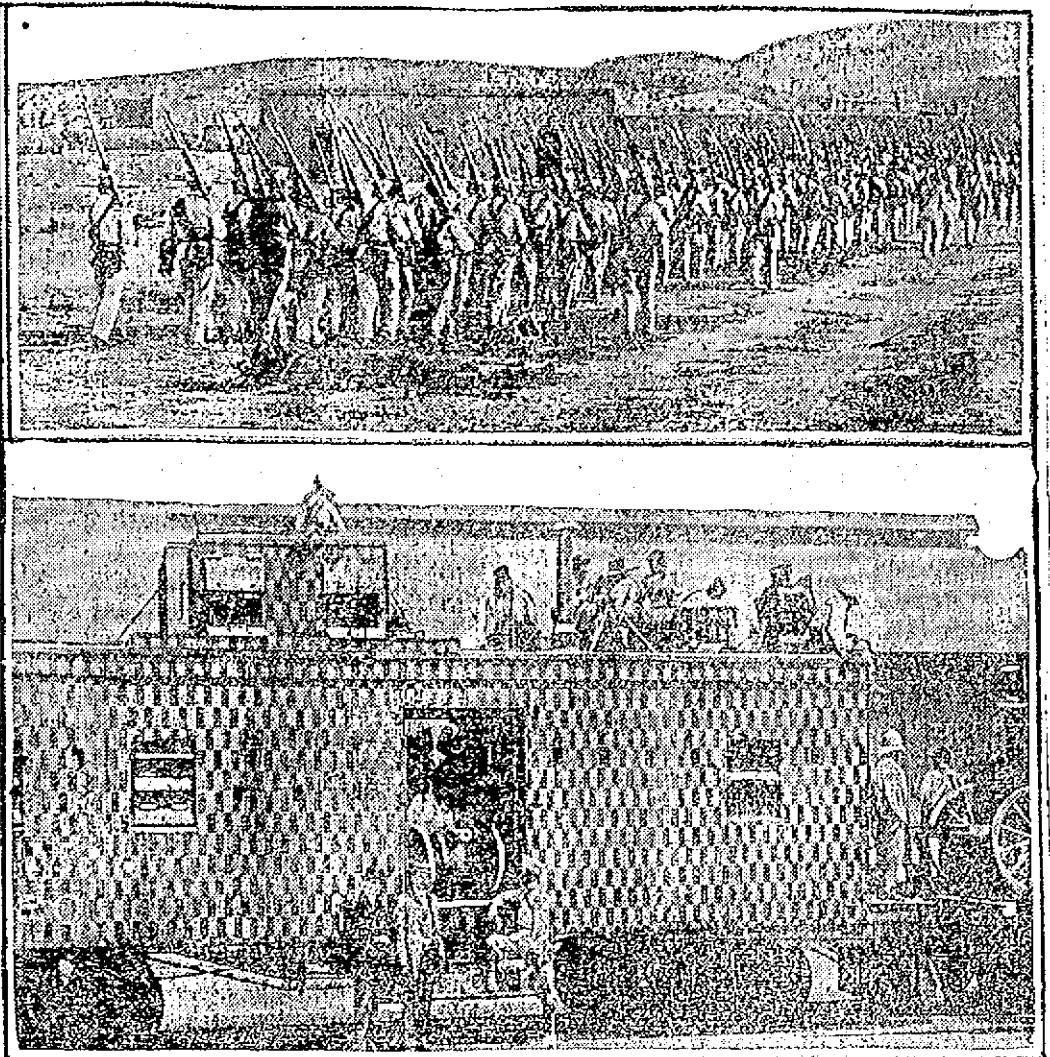

EDWARD N. JACKSON

Edward N. Jackson has been sent by the American Press association to the border to "cover" with his camera the pictorial developments of the trouble with Mexico. His travelling direction read, "Wherever the troops go in Mexico," and his route was laid first via Brownsville, Tex. Jackson is known to camera and newspaper men as a photographer of skill and resources, who gets the pictures he goes after. The pictures "snapped" by Jackson will be reproduced in The Sun.

buildings from one lot to another, twisted windmills, destroyed hot houses, leveled brick chimneys and disappeared in the direction of Haggitt's pond. We read in the war news about great trees being splintered by shell fire, but none of the gun-beaten forests of Europe have anything on the path left by the lightning and thunder accompanied cyclone that swept through Tewksbury yesterday. In some instances the top branches of trees shot down and are sticking upright in the earth like new trees.

MEXICO HAS MEN ENOUGH FOR WAR, BUT AMMUNITION AND OTHER SUPPLIES ARE SCARCE

MEXICAN REGULARS ON MARCH and ARMORED CAR, WITH GUN

In the event of war with Mexico the American authorities will place little reliance, it is said, on the possibility of serious trouble being raised for Carranza by his own people. It is believed the cry that the sovereignty and independent existence of Mexico are threatened by the "gringos" will unite all factions, even the bandits, behind the "first chief." Juan P. Burns, Carranza consul in New York, said he had received information to the effect that 1,000,000 Mexicans had offered to take up arms against the United States. However, these 1,000,000 men, if they have really volunteered—or even a much smaller number—could not be used effectively in war since there is not enough ammunition in Mexico for even 100,000 men to keep up a fight for one month, it is asserted on good authority. Pictures show a Mexican armored car with field gun in the middle and a body of Mexican infantry on the march.

TRADING WAS LISTLESS
COMING HOLIDAY CAUSES FURTHER CURTAILMENT OF OPERATIONS
NEW YORK, July 3.—Trading was extremely listless on the resumption of business today, the coming holiday causing further curtailment of operations. Developments over the week end were regarded as encouraging but failed to find very direct expression in quoted values which were again irregular. Pressure against specialties like Maxwell, Studebaker, Industrial Alcohol and Crucible Steel was renewed, with initial losses of 1 to 2 points. Mexican Petroleum made a substantial gain with fairly large transactions in Wabash pf. and Southern Railway at fractional advances. Trans-continentals were strong, Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific scoring one point gains.
The proposed federal tax seemed to be the main reason for the weakness of munitions and related issues, which continued to lose ground after a slight rally. Alcohol, Baldwin and Crucible yielded 3 to 4 points, with 1 to 2 for American Coal Products, Westinghouse, Pressed Steel Car and American Locomotive. Southern Railway and Wabash developed greater strength but representative rails showed increasing neglect. Marine pf. was in demand before mid-day, rising a point together with Cuban Cans Sugar and Texas Co. Bonds were firm.
The market was almost motionless in the early afternoon, but such changes as occurred were in the direction of greater regularity. War issues recovered one to two points. Union Pacific increased its early gain and U. S. Steel was in better demand.
Stocks were at best prices in the last hour on reports of the early withdrawal of our troops from Mexico. The closing was firm.

A very delicate skin is a baby's and any irritation, such as chapping from exposure to cold wind or the use of hard water or strong soap may lead to eczema, or it may be caused by the use of underclothing, starched knickerbockers, or unclean diapers. The disease is also caused by digestive troubles due to overfeeding and often appears in constipated babies. These causes suggest the measures needed for its prevention. Neither soap nor plain water should be used on the affected parts, which are usually the head and the face. Bran or starch may be used if necessary.
All liquids should be excluded from the diet of a nursing mother, the amount of meat reduced, and her out-of-door exercise increased. For babies fed on cow's milk the diet should be much reduced, both in quantity and strength. In older children the starched foods, restricted, potatoes and oatmeal being forbidden. It is of greatest importance that the child have a free bowel movement every day. To allay the itching, smear the surface with an application made of equal

THE SICKABED LADY

Nurse says that a powder that is beneficial to the gums is composed of: Camphor, 1 ounce; precipitated chalk, 5 ounces; pulverized chalk, 3 ounces. A sensitive tooth is very annoying and should be treated immediately. A great deal of suffering and expense could be avoided if women would consult their dentist as soon as the slightest trouble becomes manifest. Do not have the roots removed, unless they are decayed, as the removal of the molar causes the gums to recede, and so long as the root remains the gum will not lose its contour.

Just one word about dyspepsia. If anyone is troubled by any form of it commences to eat very slowly. Don't bolt your food down half chewed. At the drugstore buy some quassia chips, put two tablespoons (even) of

50,000 TEACHERS ATTEND

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION IN NEW YORK

JOHN H. FINLEY

Fifty thousand persons directly interested in education are expected to assemble in New York, July 3-5, to attend the annual meeting of the National Education Association, the largest body of teachers in the country. One of the prominent educators active in the work of the association is Dr. John H. Finley, commissioner of education of the state of New York and director of the association for the state of New York. Dr. Finley was formerly president of the College of the City of New York.

the chips into an earthen teapot, fill up the pot with fast boiling water, let stand on back of kitchen range for a day. Use it from the pot, one teaspoon (no more) before each meal. Take it for one week and skip a week. It tones up the stomach. After that discontinue. But I am laying stress upon eating slowly.

The following is an excellent relief for neuralgia: Dissolve one-half ounce of menthol crystals in two ounces pure alcohol, and apply it to the place where pain is felt, without rubbing.

Nurse says constipation is the root of many ills. There are some rules, however, that if followed will help to relieve and prevent it. Sufferers who worry greatly about their condition, should have their minds distracted therefrom. If possible, a diet containing a small proportion of eggs, meat, some fat, plenty of water, fruit and a preponderance of vegetables, rich in cellulose, is desirable. Many bodily movements have been suggested that help but the following are simple and effective when repeated regularly daily:

Stand erect with legs together and slowly bend the upper part of the body to the left as far as possible, and then to the right in the same manner. Assume the erect posture and rotate or turn the body upon the hip. Take the same position and, without bending the knees slowly lean forward and downward until the tips of the fingers touch the floor. Standing erect with hands crossed behind or extending fully above the head quickly change to the squatting posture. The movements should be repeated from five for beginners to ten times for persons accustomed to exercise.

Nurse agrees with me that the best room should be a quiet, rest, quiet, comfort, cheer, quiet in coloring and tone, something in its fitness to the character of the occupant. It should be conducive to repose, to happy thoughts as companions to the land of sleep. If I could have but one room in my home furnished as I wished it, it would be my bedroom. For I am sure that the inspiration and comfort received from sleeping and resting in a room that harmonized with my personality would increase my entertaining powers so that I could make my guests forget the furnishings in the living-room which perhaps jarred them as it might jar me.

In choosing a sleeping room I always try to have a room which gets the morning sun, for though I do not believe that it is necessary for one to retire with the chickens and arise with the first call of the rooster, still I do believe that awakening in a room that is flooded with sunshine helps start the day right, drives away the blues and gives a note to the disposition and body that a dark room does not give. And I would never sleep in a room that felt damp, because the sunshine never gets in to warm it up and drive out the demon germs which lurk in the corners of such rooms.

Nurse says eczema is one of the most persistent and annoying afflictions of babyhood. It is characterized by a swollen, reddened skin often covered with tiny pimples or crusts, sometimes having a watery discharge; at other times dry and scaly. Some babies

MRS. JOHN ROGERS DEAD TO SUPPORT PRES. WILSON

F. J. HENRY, CALIFORNIA PROGRESSIVE LEADER, ABANDONS HUGHES

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Francis J. Henry, the California progressive leader, has addressed a letter to President Wilson, expressing his purpose to work for the latter's election. He says he cannot support Mr. Hughes because he was nominated by a convention controlled by the men who dominated the "dishonest-seated delegates" that nominated Mr. Taft four years ago.

Henry was one of the most active of the Roosevelt leaders during the 1912 campaign. He openly charged Barnes, Crane and Penrose with being "crooks" and "burglars," and stirred up something closely approximating a riot on several occasions.

"By depriving Roosevelt of the republican nomination four years ago," writes Mr. Henry, "Senator Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania; Murray Crane, the senator from Massachusetts; and William Barnes of New York, with the aid of such men as Elihu Root, who was the permanent chairman of the convention, continued their control of the republican national committee and thus prolonged their powers again to defeat the will of the majority of the republican voters."

They have now once more insured their control of the republican national committee for another four years, with the continuance of their power to again defeat the will of the republican voters in 1920 and thereafter indefinitely, so long as we are without a presidential preference primary law.

Under the circumstances, I cannot follow Theodore Roosevelt back into the republican party while it is still controlled by these same men. If he had accepted the nomination of the progressive party at Chicago this year, I would have loyally and vigorously supported him, because he would have represented the basic principles upon which the progressive party was founded, to wit, the right of the majority of voters of each political party to nominate its own candidate for president, without any few men possessing the power to prevent it.

It is reasonable to expect that Mr. Hughes was not the first choice of the majority of the aggregate of republican and progressive voters in the United States. Hughes represents merely the consent of Penrose, Crane and Barnes, to permit the republican party to have its candidate a man selected by the members who, therefore, if elected president, would be disinclined to attempt to destroy the continuance of their control of the nominating machinery of the republican party, and their power thus to reward him with re-nomination for another term.

I don't question the personal integrity or character of Mr. Hughes, but I do condemn him unqualifiedly for permitting professional political tricksters to make a nation-wide canvass for his nomination while he was a member of the supreme court and a member of the cabinet, under an appointment for life, with the vast potential power which accompanies that position."
